When Australia stood in glory

The draw for Group One of the 1974 World Cup finals — Chile, West Germany, East Germany and Australia.

West Germany went on to win the Cup, beating Australia 3-0 on the way.

Now Germany is poised to defend its title in Argentina.

"Soccer Action" has a three-page feature inside on Germany, past and present.

Milan's June tour is off

AC Milan's proposed Australian tour in June has been called off.

However, Australian Soccer Federation vice-president Michael Weinstein said this week he was confident the tour would go ahead at the end of July.

If not, Milan will be here next January, he said.

The Victorian Soccer Federation, of which Mr. Weinstein is chairman, struck various problems in trying to set up the tour for June.

South Australia agreed to pay a reduced match fee of $15,000 for a game in Adelaide on June 21, but refused to pay $3000 for three days' accommodation.

Victoria had previously undertaken to pay the lion's share of Milan's costs — $35,000 — but South Australia's haggling meant Victoria would have had to pay even more.

Another problem was that Milan also wanted a game in Bangkok, which had not been finalised.

But the biggest setback was the ASF's refusal to grant permission for the tour on the grounds that it was too close to the tour by Greece and because it would interfere with Phillips League fixtures.

Mr. Weinstein will be in Milan for the first three days of June and will meet club directors on June 1. He will try to negotiate a tour in late June or in January.

"We will definitely see Milan in Australia," he said. "We have not lost them."

Milan, the team of Gianni Rivera, finished fourth in the Italian league, behind Juventus, Vicenza and Torino.

Total cost of the tour would be about $100,000.

J.U.S.T. v. HELLAS

The Phillips Cup game between Footscray J.U.S.T. and South Melbourne Hellas will be played at Olympic Park on May 31 at 8 pm.

The game is expected to draw the biggest crowd of the first Cup round.

The winner will go on to the second round, whereas the loser drops out.

The Australia-wide cup promises to become the major soccer competition in the country — the local equivalent of the English FA Cup.

STARS GET SLAP IN THE FACE!

By LAURIE SCHWAB

The Australian squad for the full international match against Greece in Adelaide on June 14 constitutes a hefty slap in the face to the senior Socceroos who have served their country so well for so long.

Peter Wilson, Jimmy Rooney, George Harris, Col Curran, Dave Harding, Peter Ollerton and Attila Abonyi have been unceremoniously dumped.

Obviously coach Jim Shoulder set out to pick only young players.

However, it is world-wide practice that only the best, regardless of age, play in full international matches.

The Australian Soccer Federation should have instructed Shoulder to experiment only in the other two games — in Melbourne on June 11 and in Sydney on June 18 — for neither of these will be billed as full internationals. Instead, the Australian team will be an "Australian XI".

The ASF should have used the full international match as a farewell to the Wilsons, Abonyis and Rooneys.

The game could have been advertised that way and perhaps these great and loyal players could have been given a small percentage of the gate receipts in recognition of their long service.

Wilson and goalkeeper Jack Reilly have been retained for the "unofficial" games but what about Rooney, Abonyi and the others?

At least they could have been paid the courtesy of being named in the squad — even if they were asked to sit on the bench!

The inclusion of Middlesbrough player Craig Johnston, in Australia to play guest games for Newcastle, was a surprise.

Johnston was quoted in the Press as saying his aim was to play for Scotland, as his parents are Scottish. What's more Middlesbrough says it would not give Johnston permission to play for Australia.

As for the squad named to play in Melbourne, there are a number of glaring omissions.

Among the countless people who rang "Soccer Action" when the squads were announced, was Mike O'Hara, understudy to Footscray J.U.S.T.'s brilliant goalkeeper Dennis Boland.

"Dennis has to be the best goalkeeper in Australia at the moment, yet he's left out. It's unbelievable," O'Hara said.

Joe Palinkas, the J.U.S.T. right winger, is clearly the best man in that position in the whole league, yet he too has been left out, while John Nyekohus of Adelaide Juventus is in the squad to play in Melbourne.

Surely Palinkas deserved a chance in front of his home crowd.

Similarly, J.U.S.T. centre back Jim Kondorios should have been in the Melbourne squad, for he's even better than Croatia's Steve Kokoska, who did rate a mention.

It's good to see Chris Kafetzidis, Joe Picciano, Mendo Ristovski and Gary Cole given a chance, but why not more Victorians for a game played in Melbourne?

John Stevenson of Hakoah is a great player, but why has he been named for the Melbourne game instead of the one in Sydney?

And why has Canberra's John Davies been selected when it is unlikely that Davies will have recovered from his injury in time?

The Prime Minister picks up a few of the finer points from Canberra coach Johnny Warren.

Prime Minister backs soccer

By JOHNNY WARREN

Irrespective of one's political leanings, Canberra City's "signing" of Australia's Prime Minister as its patron and number one ticket holder is a prestigious breakthrough for soccer.

The Prime Minister accepted his membership and patronage from the Canberra City delegation — which included vice president Theo Moulis, captain Roy Stark, guest star Peter Marinello and myself at a ceremony at Parliament House last week.

The Prime Minister expressed informed interest in Canberra City and its achievements, the Socceroos and the rapid development of soccer in Australia.

One of the saddest sights I have seen recently was the once famous Apia club playing Monaro at Bruce Stadium recently.

It was a shame to see the almost tragic demise of what was once Australia's top club.

With due respect to its current players only a couple would earn a place, if that, in Apia's great teams of the past.

Marston, Iglesias, Watkins, Giacommetti, Wong, Wenzel, Ackerley, Keith, Bottalico, Rooney, Rogers, Blues, Hughes, Ollerton, Rooney, Campagna, Wallace and other top players have gone and with them the great tradition that was Apia.

Canberra embarks on an intensive coaching/professional exercise this week to promote soccer throughout schools in the ACT.

During second term, thanks to the sponsorship of Willis Sportswear, Vic Fernandez and I will visit primary and high schools giving similar demonstrations and lectures.

During the past week Peter Marinello, Johnny Davies, Ron Tilsed, Gary Parker, Terry Byrne and I have been running coaching classes from 10-4 pm daily in the Capital Permanent Coaching School.

In addition I am running three courses for teachers over the next two months to help them organise school-kids in training methods for soccer.

"Soccer Action!" wrongly reported that Western Suburbs goalkeeper Wally Lachowicz was replaced by Greg Woodhouse at half time of the match against South Melbourne Hellas two weeks ago.

And now: State League v. Philips League

Philips Cup action comes to Melbourne tonight (Wednesday) for the first time.

Juventus Melbourne will tangle with George Cross, and Philips Leagues Fitzroy Alexander will be challenged by Slavia at Olympic Park, the first-listed game starting at 6.45pm.

In Sydney tonight (Wednesday), Western Suburbs face Sutherland, and APIA takes on St. George. These games will be played at Garside Park.

The Alexander/Slavia game will give Melbourne fans their first chance to assess the difference between the Philips and State Leagues. Slavia, although not the strongest State League club, will test Alexander, which has been far from convincing in recent games.

However, Slavia will be hard pressed to contain the Alexander striking duo of Gary Cole and Branko Buljevic, even though sweeper John Yzendoorn is in good form, so Alexander should win.

Juventus has trouble scoring goals, a failing that has let the side down badly in recent weeks. Georgie, on the other hand, has Kenny Reed, who's due for a big haul of goals.

By KYLE PATTERSON

The Juve defence, led by the dependable Steve Walker, is Juve's strong point, so the game may be decided by a single goal. 'Soccer Action' tips a Juve victory, only because the team has the big names who will lift themselves for the occasion.

Western Suburbs and St. George should go through to the second round, but Sutherland shouldn't be counted out. With the experienced ex-Socceroo John Watkins at the helm, Sutherland is capable of causing an upset.

Youngster Craig Hall is really buzzing up front for Sutherland, but Wests has the skilful, imaginative Brian O'Donnell, a midfielder who has starred in recent games.

Terry Butler and Johnny Doyle are experienced front men for APIA, but Phil O'Connor and Rudl Gnevi are firing for the Saints.

This Saturday, Newcastle meets Weston Bears, and only a supreme optimist would tip the Bears. No doubt, there will be a good crowd at this local 'derby' played at Weston Park, but Newcastle has class players in Craig Johnston, the Middlesbrough starlet, and Ken Boden, the former Doncaster Rovers (England) striker, and will win.

Wednesday night, May 24, at Garside Park, is the date and venue for the Auburn v. Sydney Olympic clash. Auburn, which crushed Arncliffe Scots 8-0 a few weeks ago, has been playing consistently lately, powered by Willie Hamilton, who has national league experience.

Olympic is a defensive team which scores most of its goals from counter attacks. Coach Tom Anderson preaches fitness and strong running, so Olympic's power could be enough to see the side through.

At Adelaide's Hindmarsh Stadium on the same night, the game between Adelaide Juventus, the big-spending national league side, and the plucky Norlunga Utd., newly-promoted to the S.A. State League, has the makings of a David and Goliath clash. Norlunga has covered itself in glory merely by qualifying. The club beat Cumberland, Polonia and Azzurri in preliminary round games, but now has the task of beating mighty Juve.

Edgy Keff, the Juve team boss, has used 17 players so far this season. Now, he also has Pat McClellan and Graham Fyfe, and is awaiting the return to Australia of John Kosmina, who will guest for Juve during Arsenal's off season.

Juve will win, but defeat will not be a disgrace for Norlunga.

Azzurri's Jeckyll and Hyde form makes it hard to predict the winner of the club's game against Beograd, the curtain-raiser to the Juve/Norlunga game.

Beograd has Wally Bozjczuk, who was with Mooroolbark last season, and he has been getting amongst the goals, while Chris Manolev has been playing well in midfield for Azzurri.

It'll be a tight game, but Beograd is 'Soccer Action's' tip.

West Adelaide Hellas travels to Perth on this busy Wednesday night to meet W.A. entrant Ascot.

The Sandpipers are an unknown quantity, but no doubt, David Jones, Hellas' under-23 Australian sweeper, will be able to fill his team-mates in on the ground and in the opposition. Jones played most of his soccer in Perth before transferring to Hellas at the start of the 1977 season.

Hellas must be clear favorites to win, as are Brisbane Lions, who are challenged by Annerley at Perry Park.

Other first round games to be played are: South Side Eagles v Eastern Suburbs Hakohu (Perry Park, Brisbane, May 31), Marconi v Croatia Sydney (Marconi Oval, Sydney, May 31), St. George Souths v Brisbane City (Perry Park, Brisbane, June 14), JUST v Sth. Melbourne Hellas (Olympic Park, May 31).

THE END OF UJESENOVIC

By ALEX VESIC

Takac grumbles to the Press - then the crunch

An argument over the status of Australian soccer in the world has been going on for long enough. We know it and the world knows it. Times are changing and so is the position of Australia on the soccer map of the world.

Who put us on that map?

Rale Rasic and his merry men in the qualifying series for the World Cup and the Cup Finals themselves in 1974.

Who were the men who performed so creditably for Australia, or is it a sin to ask?

Let me tell you a story of one man who took part in the greatest success of Australian soccer on the world scene.

His name: Doug Ujesenovic.

After playing some 35 games for OFK Belgrade in the Yugoslav First Division, Ujesenovic finds his way to Australia as part of a party of players to join the Melbourne Blues, Yugoslav-backed J.U.S.T.

The Victorian selectors were quick to spot a good player and his name began to appear on the team sheet of the Victorian representative team.

Doug moved to Sydney after St George decided to acquire the services of the brilliant full back.

Almost eight years ago Doug Ujesenovic joined the St George Budapest club and Doug proved a great success, not only as a club man but also as a representative player.

In club matches or in a representative fixture the tandem of Ujesenovic - Abonyi was well known and respected. Probing runs by Ujesenovic, followed by those curving crosses, and the great anticipation by Abonyi used to highlight many a match of St George and Australia.

Then St George decided to part with Abonyi.

The prodigal son of St George who, like Ujesenovic started his Australian career in Melbourne, was sold for $8000 to State League team Croatia.

Then at the beginning of last season, Mark Jankovic, one of the most talented forwards Australia has produced, was sold to Marconi, to the delight of Rale Rasic and Marconi president Tony Labozetta.

With so much talent gone from the striking line, the defence inevitably had to meet the consequences.

And the St George defence of today I am sure, knows what I am talking about.

Ujesenovic went with the Australian team on a tour of China, Europe and Great Britain shortly before the start of the qualifying rounds for Argentina. It was to be the warm-up for the hard competition ahead.

For Ujesenovic, the tour ended after an unfortunate collision with a Birmingham player. His injury prevented him from further appearances on this tour and he returned home hoping that with the correct treatment he might return to top soccer.

His injury, however, was to leave a permanent mark.

Doug returned to his team but the limp was apparent and his once great crosses were missing. His famous runs down the right flank were rare and most of the Sydney Press were ready to write him off.

This year Doug made a valiant effort to prove his critics wrong. He trained hard and was ready for the 1978 League season. The limp was less evident, his anticipation was good, but somehow his passes were still late and not finding the target.

The impression of Doug, the St George full back of 1978, was less than ordinary. He tried but with Phil O'Connor the sole target to aim for in the forward line, it was difficult for Doug to adjust.

In the game against Hellas, Doug had the ball often on the right flank, but he delayed his passes, waiting for someone to move towards his favorite spot, the near post, or someone tall enough to be served at the far post.

The St George players expected too much of their favourite player. They hoped for much more than mere chip shots and curves from one so much acclaimed as Doug Ujesenovic. Instead of running into those open spaces and looking for the ball the strikers were stationary, giving Doug little to work with.

He asked for the stopper's position at the beginning of the season but it took many poor displays on the right flank before St George coach Ilya Takac decided to give him a stopper's role.

He performed creditably. In two games in the stopper's position Doug found a new lease of life. His anticipation and new-found combination with Brendan Grosse added to the successes in Brisbane and Sydney. The St George defence did not concede a single goal.

I watched his last game for St George against Fitzroy-Alexander and may I tell you that during the 90 minutes against the Melbourne team Doug made only one mistake. St George won convincingly 2-0.

The day before the game, The Sydney Morning Herald ran a story told by Ilya Takac and written by Brian Curran. Takac threatened to cut short a few of his old players' contracts unless they performed well. The name of Ujesenovic was prominent in the article.

The article appeared only a day before the St Georges game against Alexander. The following day I was at Barton Park.

Everyone associated with St George is always ever so helpful, so I took a punt on asking Takac my old team mate at Yugal, about the article.

"Did you tell your players beforehand about the intended action against those who do not perform to your liking?" I asked Takac.

"I spoke to them about their poor effort many times, but I feel that if I want to tell the press about those who do not perform, I should be free to do so," was the answer.

Ujesenovic did not know about the article till the following Wednesday. One of his friends called him and pointed out that the article by Brian Curran suggested that Doug was the cause of St George's downfall.

Ujesenovic checked the information then, furious as a bear, went to training the same night. Verbal exchange followed between Takac and Ujesenovic with the coach stating: "18 players were carrying you all season. What do you expect?"

Ujesenovic apologised to his mates in the St Georges team and left.

Takac, as the coach of the St George team, had the acres to play with. Ujesenovic had the pride of a player who had given St George his best years in soccer.

Neither would back down but the coach had the last say: "Ujesenovic will have to apologise for his actions, abusive language, leaving training without permission etc. . . and face a heavy fine."

Was Takac correct in his approach? I doubt it.

Ujesenovic was a household name in St George and soccer followers all over Australia for more than seven years. He was, injured or not, limping or walking, the pride and joy of the Budapest colours.

Was Takac correct in telling the Press of his intentions, before addressing his players, or more to the point, was he wrong in forgetting his duty towards the ones who had given the green, red and whites everything including blood on the soccer pitch?

FRANKFURT — West German coach Helmut Schoen has made a last-minute change to his World Cup squad, calling in the Bundesliga's top scorer, Dieter Mueller, and leaving out Saliger of Dusseldorf.

Seliger now says he will never play for Germany again.

In another change, Schoen has dropped Forster of Stuttgart and replaced him with Konopka of Cologne.

Most German fans are angry over the exclusion of Uli Stielke, who now plays in Spain; and Paul Breitner, who has been transferred back to Bayern Munich for Eintracht Braunschweig.

TOULOUSE — France beat Iran 2-1 in an exciting international watched by 30,000 people here.

France was disappointing and the best player on the ground was Iran striker Hassan Rowshan.

France played without Michel Platini who was busy with his club Nancy in the French Cup final against Nice.

Scorers were Gernreich (1-0), Rowshan (1-1) and Six (2-1).

By ALEX VESIC

A touch of genius by Marconi coach Rale Rasic and a brilliant display by speedy Peter Sharne were sufficient to "bag" another two points against an improved St. George team at Bosley Park.

Peter Sharne had the best 45 minutes of the season in the first half, leaving the St. George defence into red and white ribbons every time he touched the ball. Yet it took almost 45 minutes for Marconi to realise it.

With Byrne, Rooney and Selva dominating the midfield, Sharne on the right flank, St. George did very well to keep Marconi out for almost the whole of the first half.

Marconi was denied a penalty in the ninth minute, when Bertie Mariani was tripped but only 60 seconds later it was St. George that could have scored. After a throw in by John O'Shea, Phil O'Connor almost pushed the ball under the Marconi goalkeeper from close range, but Maher reacted quickly and smothered the shot.

In the 16th minute Gary Byrne beat Martin Cox with a scizzling drive from about 25 metres, but to the despair of the Marconi supporters the ball hit the crossbar. A few minutes later Mariani back-heeled to Degney, sending the Marconi ball into an open space on the edge of the St. George penalty area.

Degney tried to gently chip the ball to Sharne, but instead he mis-cued, sending it straight to St. George goalkeeper Cox.

With five minutes to go to half time, Sharne ran away from Peter Terry, then crossed the ball to unmarked Mariani. With Cox out of position and the goal wide open, Marconi's young striker missed the ball.

Four minutes later Sharne ran around George Harris, then tried a shot from an acute angle but Cox saved. With one minute to go to half time Marconi went ahead.

Rich Williams sent a well-timed pass to Mariani on the edge of the St. George penalty area. Mariani sent a great cross to the far post, giving Sharne an easy task of poking the ball into the net from only seven metres.

Soon the referee decided it was time for a 10-minute rest, and I am sure that St. George players and supporters were all too happy to see Marconi dominated play completely taking 14 corners to St. George's two in the first half.

Sharne beat Holmik, then his replacement Peter Terry as well as George Harris with ease, creating havoc in the St. George penalty area. With Selva keeping a tight check on Rudolfo Gnani, and Marconi dominating the midfield, St. George had a lot to worry about.

But as so often in the past, the fortunes changed in the first minute of the second half. Ivo Prekalo played the ball wide to John Russell, who passed it to Russell, took the ball from him and sent a perfect pass to Phil O'Connor. The ball deflected off O'Connor and crawled under the body of Allan Maher into the net.

Shaken by this goal, Marconi took some time before asserting its superiority again. In the 50th minute Byrne tried a long-range shot down about 30 metres from the goal. White Rooney was preparing to take the kick, referee Jim Reeves was busy booking four players from the St. George team for failing to retire nine metres from the ball.

The four players booked — Mendes, Gnani, Djurilic and Jones — could not believe their eyes, but the referee was correct. "You do as you are told or else," was the command received from the referee and on this occasion the players decided to tempt his patience and paid for their mistake.

With 22 minutes to go Rale Rasic decided to send Mark Jankovic in for Richie Williams. With his first touch of the ball the St. George forward headed the ball past for Jankovic to head the ball past a helpless Cox.

For the rest of the game Marconi rested on its lead quite happy with the narrow margin. But it could have been costly, for St. George dominated at least the last 10 minutes, getting very close to the equaliser in the 89th minute John O'Shea ran with his great runs down the left flank, while Marconi's midfield completely outplayed their St. George counterparts.

Stuart Selva, given the difficult task of marking Gnani, played himself into the turn.

Not only did he completely shut Gnani out of the game but was also prominent in the Marconi attacks every time the opportunity presented itself.

Williams, Rooney, as well as Selva, were at least a metre faster than their opponents, while Mariani and Sharne formed a formidable attacking duo that will sink many more teams before the end of the competition.

For St. George, the show depended on the great runs down the left flank and Phil O'Connor up front. While O'Connor had a fairly good game. Gnani, I am sure, will try to forget this one in a hurry.

Morgan, Grassie and John O'Shea played well, while the rest contributed enough to keep the score down to a mere goal difference.

Good start for Adam

By JOHN TAYLOR

West Adelaide Hellas gave new coach Jim Adam something to remember in his first official outing with the club.

West Adelaide overcame a 0-1 first half deficit to down Western Suburbs 2-1 in a tough match at Wentworth Park.

I hope the boys continue to play like that and serve up a few more wins," Adam said afterwards.

Adam got the coaching job ahead of Paul Bencie and Vic Fernandez.

Last year he took Fitzroy Alexander to fourth place on the table before he resigned on a matter of principle.

The former winger who played for Australia, Aston Villa, Stoke City, Luton Town, Falkirk and South Melbourne Hellas, had previously coached Hibernian (Scotland), Oxford (England), Melbourne, George Cross, Croatia, Hibernian and Victoria.

For the first time this season West Adelaide is in the top four and looking better all the time.

Western Suburbs skipper Peter Wilson left the field with ligament trouble in the 26th minute but his absence did not greatly affect Wests who had the majority of play.

Fullback Rod Skellern was Wests' most enterprising player in the first half and he instigated some nice moves with midfielders Dave Harding and Peter Stone.

West Adelaide relied heavily on

Alex Zervas making the play down the right with much support.

It took a splendid 27th minute goal by Harding to really spark Wests into action.

Warren Turnbull, playing at left back initiated the move and his cross was picked up by Harding whose scorching 20 metre shot gave West Adelaide goalie Martyn Crook no chance at all.

Wests played some of their best football before half time but had to be content with the 1-0 lead.

A minute after the interval striker Clive Esten had a good chance to make it 2-0 but his left foot shot was too soft and Crook was able to save easily.

Turnbull, who had played a big hand in Wests' goal, was to blame for West Adelaide's equalising goal by Ian McGregor.

Turnbull tried to clear across the face of goal and McGregor was on the ball to pick up the ball and direct it over the head of Wests' goalkeeper Wally Lachowicz.

But Western Suburbs hit back strongly in a 10-minute burst Wests could have easily had three goals.

Wests' only for the excellent goalkeeper Martyn Crook, chosen to play for Australia against Greece in Adelaide, and central defender David Jones who denied Wests breakthrough.

Harding produced another of his rocket-like shots in the 55th minute but Crook was equal to the occasion.

Then Wests hit Adelaide with a barrage of high balls.

Crook was under tremendous pressure but if he didn't catch the ball then he pained it away.

David Jones used his height well to save some dicey situations.

But Western Suburbs let their frustrations get the better of them and it was West Adelaide who then played the more composed football.

Peter Boyle, McGregor, Graham Honeyman and Graham Norris began to string their moves together better and West Adelaide were finally rewarded with a second goal in the 70th minute.

McGregor came into the match much more and he and Honeyman were given loose freedom.

It was Honeyman who delivered the "killer" goal from some very scrappy play.

Wests' defenders hung off Honeyman badly to allow him to get in a low 20-metre shot inside the far post.

To add to Wests' troubles, centre forward Andy Scott was sent off just two minutes from the end after an incident involving Zervas.

Philips Cup in Canberra, Hobart

Essendon Croatia too good

HOBART — An own goal 11 minutes into the second half and then a penalty goal five minutes later gave Essendon Croatia a 2-0 win over White Eagles in the $10,000 Philips Cup at Glenorchy on Sunday.

Despite near misses by Tommy Cumming and then Billy Voltek, Eagles had two great chances when Mark Oakes got to a high centre from Linnell and soon after was off target from close in.

Mick Caban, still wearing plaster over an injury above his right eye, showed his goalkeeping ability when he dived at the feet of Branko Culina.

Carl Gilder came on 10 minutes into the second half to bring new zip into the attack and there was immediate success. Silvers putting the ball into his own net for the opening score.

Five minutes later a poor goal kick by Caban let Gilder in, only to be fouled by Kelly in the area.

Culina's penalty shot hit the left upright and rebounded across the goal to the right post before winning the net but referee Ron Procter ruled that Croatia player Ken Murphy had been inside the penalty area when the kick was taken. He gave Murphy a yellow card for ungentlemanly conduct and ordered the kick to be retaken for Culina to put the ball in the net once again.

Peter Wass came on for Tony Godfrey with 18 minutes to go but Croatia was now on top and Cumming should have scored from an Elder pass.

Caban had his last chance in the 62 minutes but it was an awkward bounce and the ball went just wide.

Eagles, who had trained hard for this game and used the offside trap to stop Croatia playing their normal short passing game, gave a creditable performance against a faster more determined and better-equipped side who had had a hard game in heavy conditions to beat Slavia 4-0 on Saturday in the Victorian State League.

Edmond Kelly and Caban did well in a hard working defence and Oakes, who impressed Croatia, was best in an attack that lacked finish.

Croatia team: Framic, Smart, Kokoska, Gardiner, Bilbrow, Murphy, Silvers, Kerr, Cumming, Voltek (Gilder 85th.), Culina.

It was the personal flip an off-form Henderson needed for he went on to achieve his first hat-trick for the club.

Canberra's other goal-scorer was Ivan Grulic.

In fairness to City the game was played in atrocious weather — it rained almost throughout — and the pitch was waterlogged.

City treated it very much as a strong practice match, even though they fielded their strongest side, including Peter Mariani. Four days later of course, they had to face Sydney's Hakoah in Sydney. — PETER WINDSOR.

Charges do the trick

By BRUCE WADDELL

Brisbane City's in-and-out form continued at Perry Park, this time on the credit side for home supporters, with a thrilling 3-2 win over a plucky Sydney Olympic.

Coach Denis Ford had made two major changes during the week, dropping the out-of-form midfielder pair Frank Pinnett to the reserves and Roberto Johnston came back into the centre of the midfield with Larry Gaffney and Ian Fagan and the latter's left back position went to Brian Kibbey.

The changes made all the difference, enabling City to take advantage of a mediocre Olympic to build up a commanding 3-0 lead 16 minutes into the second half.

City's aggression was made possible by some great front running by right winger Kevin Caldwell, and centre forward Alan Marley, whose perfect opportunism enabled him to snatch City's first two goals.

Right back Savio Iozzelli continues to improve and his constant overlapping and a much improved performance by Steve Perry's centre back partner, Peter Tokesi, gave City a much more healthy look at the back.

The first goal came in the 22nd minute, when Fagan's cross from the left was nodded down by Gaffney on the far side of the box.

The elusive Marley nipped in between Stuart Markland and Gary Meier to get a slight but vital touch.

City captured their second goal in a minute from half time, again through Marley.

Coach Tom Anderson re-organised his team with various positional changes, replacing centre forward David McIntosh and rightback Billy Palmer with Bill Stravopoulos and Don Allan.

The latter's introduction later almost became a master stroke as Allan snatched the two goals which gave a relaxing City one heck of a fight.

City made it 3-0 and looked like turning the match into a one-way affair 16 minutes after half time when Tokesi powered down the left and fed his winger Willie Conner.

Brisb. C. 3 Olympic 2

Conner left Greg Allan for dead and then rounded Meier before easily slotting his shot home.

But City, after missing a couple of easy chances which would really have wrapped up the match, then slid back into second gear, without noticing that Con Davouris and Alan Ainslie still had the ability to salvage something for Olympic.

Davouris, who had a much improved second half, sliced through the backline in the 65th minute and set up Derek Leung, but Kim Wishart came out well to smother the shot.

Seven minutes later, Olympic began on the long trek back when Wishart failed to hold a booming Ainslie drive and Allan tore through to push all pack back in the 80th minute when their lead was again cut, this time when Allan brilliantly finished off an Ainslie move down the right.

Juventus next for Alexander

By Laurie Schwab

Although Alexander should have beaten Lions, there will have to be more support for Branko Blazevic if it is to beat powerful Adelaide Juventus at Middle Park on Saturday.

The big game will be preceded at 1:30 pm by an exhibition game between the Press and a group of Greek entertainers.

With a bit of luck Blazevic could have beaten Lions, but he was just off target with two headers and was followed down goalkeeper Nigel Lownds dived at his feet.

In the first half, he headed the ball down to the feet of unmarked Gary Cole who faced an open goal, but Cole misjudged from eight metres.

In the second half, a ball was coming square to Blazevic inside the penalty area. He could have stopped it and perhaps scored but unselfishly let the ball go. To Blazevic's disgust, Campbell missed that ball altogether.

Andy Botzka buzzed about Cole well in attack, but Cole was embarrassingly out of touch. Not a thing he did came right.

In the fourth minute, for example, Botzka stormed forward in a break with Cole running free on the right. Botzka released the ball at the right time — when he had reached the defenders — but what did Cole do? He gave it straight back to the surrounded Botzka, even though he had acres of open space in front of him.

Then Cole outran George Potter in a race to goal, but shot much too early, making it easy for Lownds.

Cole's mistakes are too numerous to list, but he had played his usual sound game, there is no doubt Alexander would have won.

As for this week's game, Alexander will face a team featuring John Kosmina, Pat McCluskey, Graham Fyfe, Agenor Muniz, Jim Muir, John Farin, Bugsy Nykhus and Frank Lister to name only a few.

McCluskey (ex-Celtic) and Fyfe (ex-Hangers) are both guest players from Scottish club Dumbarton and are reportedly getting $450 a game from Juventus.

Adelaide Lions do not play this week. Their scheduled match against Footscray J.U.S.T. has been postponed because

Alexander O Lions O

Queensland meets Dundee in Brisbane on Sunday.

Getting back to last Sunday's game, it was surprising to see Blazevic get so much of the ball in the air. With Jim Hermiston doing the covering work in defence, it was Col Bennett's job to pick up the dangerous man, but the big Soccerero gave Blazevic much too much room.

Lions had come to Melbourne obviously intent on playing for at least a draw.

The defence and midfield were unventurous, leaving the forwards with little support, although it must be said that central striker Barrie Fairbrother did little to help himself.

Paul Laslo, on the other hand, went from wing to wing, looking for the ball, getting it and trying to do something imaginative with it.

However, it was largely due to goalkeeper Lownds that Lions achieved their draw.

In the second half Lownds dived at the feet of Blazevic and Mike Micevski to save two possible goals.

Then he made his best save of the game by stopping a strong header by Jim O'Reilly after a cross by Jim Tansey.

Both Tansey and the other full back, Arthur McMillan, had sound games for Alexander, whereas centre backs Bob Provan and O'Reilly had very little to do.

Lions' only dangerous scoring attack came from headers by Alan Hughes and John Neale in the first half.

About two minutes from the end, Fairbrother got clear in a Lions counter-attack which could have decided the match.

But he wasted the scoring opportunity by feeding an awkward ball to Neale who had difficulty in controlling it before releasing it to Laslo. In the time it all took, Alexander's defenders had hurried back, and Laslo's final shot was too weak anyway.

Alexander replaced captain Pat Bannon at half time. Bannon said after the game he had pulled a leg muscle.

Hageboom still saves Hellas

By FRANK PANGALLO

Bolstered by its four imports, a formidable Adelaide Juventus had to be content with a draw against South Melbourne Hellas at Olympic Sports Field.

However, Juventus would argue that dubious refereeing by Jim Johnston probably cost them a vital victory.

Indeed, Johnston's interpretations were utterly confusing on many occasions but one in particular robbed Juventus of what appeared to be a blatant penalty 26 minutes into the game.

Graham Fyfe, one of the new players from Dumbarton, was swept off his feet well inside the area, but referee Johnston signalled an indirect free-kick.

With Juventus trailing by a goal scored by George Christopoulos 10 minutes earlier, it was a crucial decision at a critical stage.

Juventus coach Edmund Kretz gambled against the after-effects of jet lag and fielded Fyfe and Soccerero John Kosmina while Pat McCluskey (ex-Celtic) spent the first half watching the proceedings from the bench.

Big Jim "Jimbo" Muir, the Dumbarton skipper who arrived in Australia a fortnight ago, joined stopper Frank Lister in defence and single-handedly almost led Juventus to victory.

Kretz's gamble looked set to come unstuck during the first half as there seemed to be some uncertainty between the regulars and the new faces.

While Fyfe had an impressive first half on the right wing, Kosmina wasn't being led adequately up front and had to contend with two defenders snapping at his heels all day.

In the first half, it seemed both sides were adopting a similar approach to on-field tactics and it resulted in negative play in mid-field where neither side could dictate terms.

Although Juventus looked as stylish as always, it was Hellas who took the initiative in the 16th minute.

Speedy George Campbell lobbed a free kick into the area and found the head of unmarked Christopoulos, who sent the ball wide of Juventus' keeper Roger Romanowicz.

But unfortunately for Hellas, it was one of the few occasions Campbell was sighted and his brilliance was stifled by Bugsy Nykhus' tight marking.

Big Peter Orlerton had his hands full trying to cope with Lister and Muir, leaving midfielder Billy Rogers with the burden of trying to carry an attack.

Juventus brought Agenor Muniz on at half time in place of Gary Marocchi and the move sparked an incredible period of attacks which almost sent the visitors reeling.

Henry Kolecki came into it more in the second half, but he was not so effective as he was in the first half.

Muir repeatedly pumped balls high and while it didn't help ground forwards Johnny Nykhus and Kosmina, the tactics almost devastated Hellas.

Kosmina, in one of the rare occasions he was left unmarked, had a golden opportunity one minute into the second half when he burst clear and dashed toward an open goal.

Hellas' keeper John Hansen did well to block Kosmina's shot but the ball rebounded to the young Arsenal player who steered to head the ball into the empty goal.

But Margaritis Hageboom, who played extremely well throughout, came from nowhere to sweep the ball off the line and save Hellas.

Perceptive Aggie Muniz played a major part in Juventus' equaliser in the 60th minute.

As he was about to take a free kick outside the area, Muir made a dash into the box and Muniz superbly guided the ball to the head of the lucky Scot, who sent it into the roof of the net.

McCluskey replaced Fyfe, who had run himself ragged, midway through the half but despite constant sorties, Hellas were able to absorb all that was thrown at them.

Remarkably, Juventus coach Kretz wasn't too pleased with the result because, he claimed, his players didn't carry out his half-time orders.

He wanted them to build up attacks and play the ball down the wings but they persisted with pumping long balls, Kretz argued.

We were fortunate that they worked out well for us but we could have been in a more comfortable position had they done what was asked of them.

Juventus' journey to Melbourne this week to face Fitzroy and South Melbourne has been one of their most successful in recent years.

The transfer-listing of Mendo Ristovski was a much greater shock than Footscray's 0-1 loss to Newcastle, although J.U.S.T. had been expected to win and climb into the top four.

Ristovski, 22, the Victorian and Australia international forward, is looking for offers after failing to come to terms with J.U.S.T. over a new contract.

Ristovski asked for $2000 a year. J.U.S.T. president Tony Kovac denied reports that he had altered Ristovski's $1000. Mr Kovac said his offer was in line with what all the other players are getting.

"The club will continue its policy of paying all the players the same money," he said.

"It would not be fair to give Mendo more than the others."

I believe Mendo is under pressure from some of his relatives and that's why he presented to the club a figure he knew we could not come up with.

Mendo himself has said he does not want to leave J.U.S.T. and we certainly do not want to lose him.

off just hope his relatives will come to see that Mendo's future is with J.U.S.T. He has been with us for so long that we regard him as part of the family."

Hopefully, the matter can still be settled. If not, J.U.S.T. will lose a valuable player.

Ristovski is in the Australian squad to meet Greece in Melbourne next month.

He has been with J.U.S.T. since he was 10.

Against Newcastle, J.U.S.T. started brilliantly, with Jim Kondarios having a header held by goalkeeper Phil Dando, and Joe Palinkas hitting the crossbar.

Then Ristovski played it square to Vasic in another break, but Vasic wasted the opportunity by pushing the ball too far ahead, allowing Dando to storm out and grab it.

Dando pushed a good free kick by Piccione over the bar, and then Vasic failed to score because he wasn't quick enough in following up a Ristovski shot which Dando could only parry.

But after half time, J.U.S.T. collapsed. The team was left with only four players — Kondarios, Piccione, Mike Rujevic and Dennis Boland — who showed any semblance of the form one has come to expect from J.U.S.T.

Newcastle, on the other hand, played extremely well.

Their players were first to the ball and they tackled hard and clean.

Roy Drinkwater, who had broken up so many attacks with timely tackles when J.U.S.T. was playing well, continued his good work, complemented by the aerial supremacy of Bill Summercales and the tenaciousness of full backs Peter Willis and Col Curran.

Craig Johnston was a winner in midfield, although he sometimes overdid his fancy footwork, and Bob Mountford was excellent up front showing commendable application in also dropping right back to help his defence.

Ken Boden once again showed why an excellent player he is, but he was not as effective as he was in the first half, and he must have been pleased that he had so much support this time.

J.U.S.T. 0 Newcastle 1

With Zdravko Mujic suspended for a week, J.U.S.T. lined up with midfielder Zoran Illoki at left back. Illoki played well there, but in an effort to bolster the midfield, coach Cedo Cirkevich switched Illoki back to his original position after half time, and brought Andy Kazi on as left back.

Just before half time, Dennis Boland showed the class that has made him the in-form goalkeeper of the league by stopping a header by John Sneddon and a shot by Boden.

Having replaced struggling Vasic at half time, J.U.S.T. had even less striking power in the second half, thus putting even more pressure on the defence.

The match really started turning Newcastle's way when Mountford scored with a header from a cross by Willis in the 48th minute.

The goal came in a break, with most of the J.U.S.T. players stranded upfield.

Boland made another fine save, this time from Johnston, and then Col Curran hit the post.

Having used mainly positive tactics in the first half, Newcastle now started to play some nice football. Boden spearheaded the crossfield pass to Johnston but a timely tackle by Jim Kralja prevented Johnston from shooting at goal.

Boden and Mountford played a one-two into the box, but Boden shot just wide before J.U.S.T. hit back with John Nicolaides' running goalwards on a long ball from Kondarios. However, Phil Dando came out well to smother Nicolaides' attempt.

Piccone kept on trying for J.U.S.T., winning the ball with his sheer persistence and shooting whenever he had the chance, but most of the other players appeared to have given up hope.

Hakoah is mighty again

By PETER SCOTT

A midweek replenishment of its playing staff gave Hakoah the confidence to get back on the winning list, but only after overcoming dogged resistance by visiting Canberra City for more than half the match.

Horried by the inflationary trends in the local soccer market, Hakoah officials in recent weeks quietly, in fact almost secretly, looked overseas for new blood.

Apart from recent recruit Ian Soumeas, formerly on the books of Chelsea with the famed London club's Football Combination (reserve) team, the Blues welcomed two more new arrivals last week.

Simao Antonilio da Silva, playing under the tag of Simao, a 21-year old striker from Portuguese Second Division club Beira Mar, native of the Cape Verde Islands off the West Coast of Africa, Simao has been signed from the same team which allowed guest appearances last year by the immensely skilful Manecas.

Mark Trester, a tall striker from West Bromwich Albion, who had been on the verge of first team selection for some time. He is also in his early twenties.

In addition, Hakoah obtained the free transfer of former Marconi and Soccerero goalie Bill Rorke, who is making a comeback after dropping out of senior soccer for a while.

Former Hakoah captain Greg Lynch is also back on the Blues books following a period on loan to Olympic.

Against this strengthened squad, with the added confidence it produced, Canberra City fielded its Scottish guest Peter Marinello, who was a smash hit against Marconi in his debut.

Hakoah 3 Canberra 0

As it turned out, that proved to be the turning point, as Hakoah players gradually found their stride, none better than Soumeas.

He was a human dynamo, covering huge tracts of Wentworth Park, turning in an impeccable midfield display and holding out promise of a brilliant career in Aussie soccer — if only he can keep this up.

His moment of glory was to come later, however, as it was Steve O'Connor who barreled through on the blind side to hammer home the opening goal from a Barnes back header in the 68th minute.

Seeing its coveted point slipping away, Canberra decided to come out of its shell, paradoxically enlivening its own defence.

Suddenly the Hakoah attack found more space to move and, coupling the with the bandstand, high-cross type of game, proceeded to carve up the visiting defence with meticulous care and apparent relish.

Only six minutes passed before Kevin Mullen sliced through City's last line, calmly slipping the ball to the unmarked Campbell.

The former Marconi goal-grabber dribbled past the advancing Tisel and slotted the ball into the net, out of the reach of the desperately lunging defenders.

Brazilian ball artist Silva was also doing great things on the wing, close once and even closer soon after, when he hit the left upright.

Just four minutes from full-time the three strikers produced a moment of magic that bodes ill for opponents in coming weeks.

Campbell crossing to the right, unselfishly tapped the ball into the path of Simao.

The frizzy-coiffured African blasted a first-time volley which had Ted going the wrong way, but rebounded into play off his foot.

The final nail in the coffin of Canberra was the glorious goal of Soumeas in the 89th minute, confirming his "man of the match" standing.

It was hard to get the bitterly disappointed Johnny Warren to talk after the match, which most pundits tipped to be his before the kick-off.

For almost half an hour he was closeted with his players behind locked doors, and one can only surmise what passed between them.

In only their second year of existence Canberra's players offer a credible challenge to any club in the league, but there are some vital weaknesses in the forwards, which could delay their further advance up the competition table.

Warren faces a cruel dilemma, as the money is not available, he claims, to venture into the local transfer market.

In spite of a conscious policy of encouraging local youngsters, the City supremo may be tempted to look overseas.

Hakoah, on the other hand, looked as if they believed the stern words of their technical director Andrew Lederer, who told the players no other club has the same amount of talent at its disposal.

His words gain added weight if we realise that Todd Clarke, Terry Smith and Alan Kenshaw were not even among the reserves because of their injuries.

Overwhelming response

LONDON — An Australian sports promoter who advertised for soccer players here has been overwhelmed with the response.

Promoter Rob Jolly received more than 500 applications from Britons hopeful of spending a few seasons in Australia.

He placed the advertisement as a favor for John van Hoboken, chairman of Melbourne's Ringwood City side.

At the moment I feel it would be unfair to name any of the applicants," he said.

dards of the game and to provide a challenge for our local players."

Klaus Fischer: survived bribery scandal to become succ

"I don't know why you Germans are always lamenting about having lost Gerd Mueller," said Mexican defender Javier Guzman after Germany had come back from two goals down to draw 2-2 with Mexico last year.

"This Klaus Fischer is one of the most dangerous centre forwards I've ever played against."

Klaus Fischer

Fischer had just scored the two goals that deprived Mexico of what would have been the country's most notable victory. Klaus Fischer, born on December 27, 1949 in the village of Kreutstrassel, has inherited the centre forward position from "Bomber" Gerd Mueller and his predecessor Uwe Seeler.

Like Mueller and Seeler, Fischer is Germany's match-winner.

Fischer joined TSV Muenchen 1860 in 1967. From 1968 to 1970 he was one of the youngest strikers in the Bundesliga yet he still scored 28 goals in 60 games over those two seasons.

When TSV was relegated, Fischer transferred to Schalke 04 and from a $100 a week contract he was on the way to an eventually $100,000-a-year agreement. Fischer is now captain of Schalke and has survived to become a star of the national team despite the Bielefeld bribery scandal, which threatened him with life suspension from football.

It happened in the 1970-71 season. Arminia Bielefeld, previously a certain candidate for relegation, saved itself from the drop by beating Schalke 1-0 six weeks before the end of the season.

At the end of the season it was discovered that an Arminia player had offered the Schalke players about $15,000 to let Arminia win.

The guilty Schalke players went through sporting and civil courts and Fischer, who had been Schalke's top scorer with 15 goals for the season, paid fines totalling about $3500.

The Soccer Federation suspended him for two years but in 1973, after an appeal, the ban was cut to one year. The federation had also decided that none of the players involved in the scandal should ever be picked to play for Germany. It wasn't until January, 1977 that the federation decided that each of the culprits should make a donation of $4000 to cancer research and be free to continue their League and international careers. "And so Fischer was out two years and spent six months from lawyer to lawyer, court hearing, appeal to appeal. Of the bribery incident, made a ridiculous error. I suppose I didn't think and what I now know to have been a culpable mistake.

"We were clearly the better dressing room before against Arminia, the older me we had agreed to let a received a sum of money, and stayed up and Kicker

GERMANY B FOUR TIMES

No team in the world has been as consistently successful over the past 12 years as West Germany, holder of the World Cup.

In fact, Germany has not been out of the World Cup limelight since winning the trophy in an upset result against Hungary in Switzerland in 1954.

"Look at the Germans' record: placed third, 1958, quarter-finalist in 1962, losing finalist, 1966; third in 1972; World Cup winner 1974."

Now Germany has the best chance yet of becoming the first European team to win the Cup in South America.

Indeed, Germany rates with Brazil and Argentina as one of the three Cup favorites despite the loss of Franz Beckenbauer, Paul Breitner, Uli Hoeneß, Wolfgang Overath, Juergen Grabowski and Gerd Mueller who were all in the winning team of 1974.

Germany's ability to replace these stars and still win demonstrates quite clearly that no country can match the depth of German football.

However, Germany's program of lead-up practice games started badly with a 0-1 loss to France in Paris in February, 1977, and ended badly with successive losses to Brazil and Sweden in April this year.

There have been 15 warm-up games. Results were: v France (Paris) 0-1, v Northern Ireland (Colloigne) 5-0, v Yugoslavia (Belgrade) 2-1, v Argentina (Buenos Aires) 3-1, v Uruguay (Montevideo) 2-0, v Brazil (Rio) 1-1, v Mexico (Mexico City) 2-2, v Finland (Helsinki) 1-0, v Italy (West Berlin) 2-1, v Switzerland (Stuttgart) 4-1, v Wales (Dortmund) 1-1, v England (Munich) 2-1, v USSR (Frankfurt) 1-0, v Brazil (Hamburg) 0-1, v Sweden (Stockholm) 1-3.

German manager Helmut Schoen is sure the recent defeats are only temporary setbacks. He argues it is better to have problems now, when there is time to solve them, than during the finals themselves.

And Schoen reminds us of what he said even before the 2-1 win against England: "Against opposition as strong as England, Russia, Brazil and Sweden we can even afford to lose a game or two. We have been beaten only twice since winning the World Cup." Now, of course, Germany has lost four times since 1974 — to England, France, Brazil and Sweden.

Schoen has diligently used every practice game to analyse his team's strengths and weaknesses, to experiment here and there, to get things right for Argentina. Against England, for example, he had no intention of fielding his best side, asking left back Bernhard Dietz to stand down, so that the improving Herbert Zimmermann of Cologne could be tried out.

Let's not forget that Germany beat England — a re-emerging force under Ron Greenwood — despite the absence of Klaus Fischer who was ill, and the injuries during the match to Heinz Flohe and Herbert Neumann.

One wing position and one midfield post are generally considered to be still open in the national team.

Those definitely in the line-up on recent form are: goalkeeper Sepp Maier, right back Bert Vogts, centre backs Rolf Ruessmann and Manfred Kaltz, left back Bernhard Dietz, midfielders Heinz Flohe and Rainer Bonhof, right winger Ruediger Abramczik and striker Klaus Fischer.

The remaining midfielder will be Erich Beer, Bernd Gulmann or Bernd Hoelzenbein and the other winger probably Karl-Heinz Rummenigge.

However, it is traditional here that the national team undergoes extensive changes in the weeks before and even during the World Cup.

History speaks for itself on that point.

Ten weeks before the 1954 World Cup final in Bern, Germany beat Switzerland 5-3 in Basle with the following team: Kubsch, Retter (Kohlmeyer), Laband, Eckel, Pospal, Mai, Hermann (B. Klotz), Morlock, Otmarr Walter, Fritz Walter, Schaefer.

Yet the team for the 3-2 victory over Hungary in the Cup final was: Turek, Pospal, Kohlmeyer, Eckel, Liebrich, Mai, Rahn, Morlock, Otmarr Walter, Fritz Walter, Schaefer — only six (including first-goal substitute Kohlmeyer) had survived those 10 weeks.

Eight weeks before the 1966 final in England, Germany beat Rumania 1-0 in Ludwigshafen 1-0 with a goal by Seeler. The team was: Tilkowski, Lutz, Schnellinger, Szymanski, Weber, Hoeltges, Grabowski (Held), Ulass, Seeler, Overath, Hornig.

Of these 12, only seven remained in the final, if one counts Held. The team in the final against England was: Tilkowski, Hoeltges, Schnellinger, Beckenbauer, Schulz, Weber, Haller, Overath, Seeler, Held, Emmerich.

On April 7, 1974, Germany fielded the following team in its 5-0 victory over Hungary in Dortmund: Nigbur, Vogts, Schwarzenbeck (Bonhof), Beckenbauer, H. Kremer, Cullmann, Hoeneß (Fiohe), Wimmer (Hoelzenbein); Grabowski, G. Mueller, E. Kremer.

In the World Cup final against Holland on July 7, in Munich, the team was: Maier; Vogts, Schwarzenbeck, Beckenbauer, Breitner, Bonhof, Hoeneß, Overath, Grabowski, Mueller, Hoelzenbein.

In the context of that background, one wonders how the German team will Fischer celebrated his return to the national team by scoring twice in Germany's 5-0 win over Northern Ireland on April 27, 1977 in Cologne.

He finished the 1977 season as fourth highest scorer in the Bundesliga, with 24 goals — 18 scored with headers.

Fischer to become the best centre forward since Gerd Mueller, and so Fischer set about proving it by scoring five of Germany's eight goals on the South American tour last year, despite being rested from the 2-0 win over Uruguay.

Of Germany's World Cup chances, he says: "Our 3-1 win against Argentina in Buenos Aires and subsequent victories have shown that we can get along without Franz Beckenbauer and that had been worrying everyone — players, officials and the public."

"If I'm not very much mistaken, we'll be coming home after keeping the World Cup. Our main rivals will be Holland, Argentina and Brazil."

To win, Germany will need goals from Fischer, and he has proved he can get those goals. After all he is the third highest scorer in Bundesliga history, after Gerd Mueller and Jupp Heynckes.

at now the world is asking her Germany's golden age is on the way out, whether the passing of the greats means that the national team is on the decline.

Paul Breitner, who went from Bayern Munich to Real Madrid and is now at Eintracht Braunschweig, says: "In my opinion the best football played in the last 10 years was by the West German side of 1972 — the team that won 3-1 at Wembley and went on to win
the European championship.
This was the peak and since then I think the standard has gone downhill."

"The West German team of 1974 wasn't as good as the 1972 side but it still won the World Cup."

"In the last three years teams like Holland and Poland have declined rapidly and if a 'medium' team like Czechoslovakia just manages to beat a declining West Germany in the 1976 European final, we shouldn't throw our hats in the air. I'm quite worried, because I think football in general is in a very dangerous situation."

"There seems to be a world-wide decline in playing standards."

"There is too much emphasis on defence and not enough flair and inspiration.
Everyone wants to play to a system and there's a negative attitude of wanting to neutralise the opponents instead of going out and playing your own game."

"I'm not convinced we'll see much good football in the 1978 World Cup."

In contrast to the opinion of Breitner, who is out of the national team due to several differences with the German Football Federation, is the opinion of Helmut Herers.

The former master coach believes this will be the best World Cup of them all. "These finals have the strongest mixture of teams ever, so they must be good," he said.

The squad

West Germany's final 22-man
World Cup squad is:

Goalkeepers: Maier (Bayern Munich), Kargus (Hamburg),
Burdinski (Werder Bremen).

Defenders: Vogts
(Duisburg), Zimmermann
(Cologne), Kaltz (Hamburg), Ruesmann (Schalke), Schwarzenbeck
(Bayern Munich), Tenhagen
(Bochum), Konopka (Cologne).

Midfielders: Bonhof
(Moenchengladbach), Flohe
(Cologne), Cullmann (Cologne),
Boer (Herta BSC), H. Mueller (VfB Stuttgart).

Forwards: Abramczik (Schalke),
Fischer (Schalke), Rummenigge
(Bayern Munich), Hoelzenbein
(Frankfurt), Worm (Duisburg),
D. Mueller (Cologne).

There are also many who disagree with Breitner's opinion that Germany is declin-
g. Of 12 Argentinian national team players questioned, seven are convinced that Germany will retain the World Cup, while only four believe Argentina can win it, and one tips Brazil.

Berti Vogts believes that Manfred Kaltz will prove a good replacement for Beckenbauer as sweeper and Klaus Fischer as good a goalscorer as Gerd Mueller.

He therefore feels West
Germany can retain the Cup, although no European team has ever won it in South America.

Germany's first finals game is against Poland on June 1, and predictably, Schoen regards Poland as his only threat in the first round.

In 10 games against Poland, Germany has won seven and drawn three with a goal tally of 19-6.

Against Mexico, the Germans have achieved one win and two draws, scoring seven goals to two, but they have never met Tunisia, their other opponent in Group Two.

Polish derby to Edder, thanks to Tony Alexander

First Division

ARDEER 2 (Kolanowicz, Wrobel) POLONIA 1 (Koter).
ARDEER: Dorch, Polinski, Sewda, Czernicki, Korusz, Kupisz, Ujarski, Dykun, Kolanowicz, Wrobel.

POLONIA: Sorokowski, Wsola, J. Dmirliu, J. Pater, Gawlik, Horfink, Herman, P. Czupnik, W. Klain, Koter, Esposito, Sub. Lakis 70th.

Ardeer hit the front through Kolanowicz in the 10th minute of this Polish derby.

The equaliser came in the 25th minute when Polonia was awarded a penalty after Mike Olonowski had held Joe Herman by the shirt.

Peter Czupnik's spot kick bounced off the bar but Tom Koter followed up to put it into the net.

In the second half, the ball bounced off a post before Eddy Wrobel scored but Polonia came close to getting an equaliser when Koter hit the side netting and a shot by Gawlik was finger-tipped away by goalkeeper Dorch.

BOX HILL 1 (Walsky 76th min.) WESTERN SUBURBS 1 (Stergiou 35th min.)
BOX HILL: Morgan, E. Lapsch, C. Corke, C. Cupido, E. Hall 8 (Hornor 86th min.), Ramos 5 (Murray 86th min.), Walsky 7, McCleod 6, Sherman 7, Tuffield 5, Taylor 6.

SUBURBS: Mitandis 8, Stojanovic 6 (Kypriklidis 75th min.), Jaworski 8, Kozak 7, Karapapad 6, Skoris 7, Stergiou 7, Theodoridis 7 (Patsalos 71st min.).

Western Suburbs dropped a valuable point against Box Hill and now face the daunting task of having to make up five points on Croynon if the club is to win promotion.

Suburbs controlled the game until 20 minutes from time when the team's key players began to tire, paving the way for a spirited comeback by the Hillmen.

A light defence and a dominating midfield were Wests' strong points, but the side's supremacy in these departments was not to avail as the forward line was non-existent.

Full back Kerry Ball was the best of the Box Hill players, and along with Paul Corke, kept the Hillmen in the game when Wests was on top.

Wests had plenty of good build up, and swung the ball around in the middle of the park.

The Suburbs front line didn't have the bite or thrust to make use of the good service it got from the team's midfield of Andy Czapnik, Steve More and Mark Karapapad.

All of them played well, but should be prepared to attack more and take responsibility for scoring goals.

The Box Hill midfield had only Aukie Walsky playing well. Pedro Ramos was consistently caught in possession because of his lack of pace, and Ian McCleod's passing let him down.

Wests' goal came from a breakaway. The scorer, Lou Stergiou, was lucky the linesman didn't notice that he was standing a yard beyond the last defender when the ball was kicked to him. However, despite the fact that he may have been outside, Stergiou slotted the ball past Graham Morgan stylishly.

Box Hill hung on, despite being given the run-around by Wests, and came right back into the game near the end. Wests' keeper Alex Mitandis had to make several good saves, and centre half Mike Glykhalamos stopped many Box Hill attacks with timely tackles.

The Hillmen got their equaliser when Walsky jumped well and powerfully headed home a corner.

Victorian Metro and Provisional Leagues

The last 20 minutes belonged to Box Hill, but George Theodoridis had a great chance to give Wests the two points when the ball fell to him five yards out. With an open net staring him in the face, Theodoridis blazed the ball over the crossbar. Coach Tony Vrzina substituted him soon after.

It was a good point for Box Hill to get after the team's dismal performance against Koller City last week, and gives the Hillmen something to build on in preparation for the clash with Croynon City in two weeks.

DOVETON 5 (Sullivan 2, Spears, Roderick, McMinimee) SPRINGVALE 3 (Deane 2, Luca).

DOVETON: Riess, Taylor, Donnelly, Thurlow, Kingley (Sullivan half time (McMinimee 65th min.)), Bray, Roderick, McMinimee, Murray, Spears, Coultis.

In a hectic second half, Doveton came back after being down 3-1 at the interval and scored four goals and had two disallowed.

Doveton's hero was Peter Sullivan, who came on at half time and scored two goals. However, Sullivan was injured in the process of scoring his second goal, and was carried off the field.

Springvale had dominated the first half, but there was no stopping Doveton in the second half as the team powered its way to its second win this season. Best for Doveton was Billy Spinks, while Duane played well for Vale.

Doveton is eagerly waiting the arrival of Steven Irvine, the brother of Frankston City's Sandy Irvine, the former Australian and Victorian representative.

Steven has recently completed a season with Aberdeen A.D. which went through the season undefeated. He is a striker, and like his brother is well built and tall (6ft. 3in.). He's 20 years old.

CROYDON 4 AUSTRIA 0. The game, which was to have been played at Koller-Austria's ground, was switched to Croynon Park on Friday day the ground at Harrick's Road was declared unfit by Koller Council.

A good crowd, considering the short notice, turned out to see Croynon put together two good halves of soccer against a team that was better than their position on the ladder would indicate.

Indeed it took Croynon 35 minutes to open the scoring and up until then Koller had looked most likely to score.

The move was built up on the left and the ball scooped across the front of the area where Duncan Smith gathered and fired in a hard low shot.

The Koller goalkeeper could not hold it and the ever-alert Roy Hamilton was following in and netted the loose ball, and then on Croynon were rarely in trouble.

On the tick of half time Croynon forced a corner on the left wing and Pat Fawcner's deep cross found full back Mick Sinclair who had moved up and he headed down for Charlie Kelly to score.

At the 15-minute mark of the second half Jim Wylie was put away down the middle, he outpaced the defence and slipped a nicely placed shot just inside of the diving goalkeeper to give Croynon a 3-0 lead.

With the Gully continually pinned down it was only a matter of time before Knox scored and it came at the 20 minute mark. Another good corner by Steve Atkins was met and firmly headed in by Johnny Bedford at the far post.

With only one goal the difference Gully were always in the game and as Knox City attack's remained fruitless in the second half the Gully were more confident of levelling the score, particularly in the last 20 minutes.

MORELAND 2 ELTHAM 0. Scorer: Ferretter (37th and 42nd min.).

MORELAND: Debuting Duncanson, Kelly, Black, Appleby, Brail, Katz, Williams, Ferretter, Marshall, Evans, Joe Abonyi, Peter, Oates.

ELTHAM: Danny Rick, Ralph Crowley, Phil Hopkinson, Alan Raynes, Mick Circa, Danny Spaniak, Stewart Taylor, Gordon McIntosh, David Norton, Ron Vanderzant, Fred Vanderzant, Kevin Emsden, Bill Horna.

Besides losing the points Eltham also suffered another two injuries which will further deplete their senior players' list. The game started at a great pace and Eltham missed three early opportunities.

The score remained 4-0 the boys showed just how much depth Croynon have to fall back on.

As the game drew to its conclusion Jim Black who had regained his place in the team when Charlie Murphy was declared unfit showed he had lost none of his skills. He initiated and finished a great move up the left wing with a beautiful cross which found Jim Wylie in the area. The move however was not rewarded with the goal it deserved as Wylie's shot skimmed just over the bar.

The Croynon reserves ran out 2-0 winners in an entertaining curtain raiser. Second half goals by Mark Brown and Graham Feder gave the Croynon youngsters their third win of the season.

Next Saturday Croynon are at home to Ardeer.

CROYDON: M. Edwards, T. Kelly, C. Kelly, J. Wylie, M. Sinclair, M. Brown (77th min.), P. Lowrey, A. Pongho, D. Smith, R. Hamilton, S. McCombe, J. Blacker, G. Gerrish (70th min.).

Goal scorers: R. Hamilton (35th min.), J. Wylie (61st min.), C. Kelly (44th min.), P. Lowrey (68th min.).

Second Division FOOTSCRAY/U.S.T. 3 (Belle, own goal Paganis, Kazanovsk) PORT MELBOURNE 1 (Alexiou).

FOOTSCRAY/U.S.T.: Belle, own goal Paganis, Kazanovsk, Port Melbourne: Alexiou. There was only one team in it, although Port Melbourne took a surprise lead from the free kick in the second minute. J.U.S.T. players recovered quickly from the shock goal but it took them quite a long time to capitalise on their territorial advantage.

In the 32nd minute Vlado Belle hit a magnificent ground shot from 20 yards which rocketed into the net through the diving goalkeeper's hands. In the 38th minute J.U.S.T. took the lead after a defender deflected a corner kick into their territorial advantage.

After that goal J.U.S.T. had very little trouble winning at Schintler Reserve. Milan Kazanovsk scored his first goal for J.U.S.T. in the second half from a very difficult angle. He also launched some superb crosses, but J.U.S.T. forwards failed to connect.

FOOTSCRAY/U.S.T.: Stefanides 7, Grabc 7, Karic 7, Dimovics 7, Cankovic 7, Azecki 7, Belle 8, Vico 6 (L. Talevski 7), Zargia 6, Petreski 7, Kazanovsk 6.

PORT MELBOURNE: Karamanov 3, Triantafillou 7, Paganis 6, Tyrikos 6, Takianov 7, Lambropoulos 6, Hapanas 6, Alexiou 7, Lackopoulos 7, Kypros 6, Papis 6.

PORT MELBOURNE RESERVES 2 (Kokolats, own goal) D. FOOTSCRAY/U.S.T. RESERVES 1 (Peter Kric).

FERNTREE GULLY 0 KNOX CITY 1. Scorer: Johnny Bedford (20th min.).

KNOX CITY: De Man, M. Shuttleworth, D. Bailey, J. Bedford, C. Milne, J. Williams, P. Flynn, J. Howarth, S. Atkins, E. McConville, S. Pongho.

Knox City made hard work of the Gully contesting game at Ferntree Gully. Playing with the wind and having a good 90% of the first half game Knox should have been more than 1-0 up.

Knox attacked incessantly from the kick off.

With the Gully continually pinned down it was only a matter of time before Knox scored and it came at the 20 minute mark. Another good corner by Steve Atkins was met and firmly headed in by Johnny Bedford at the far post.

With only one goal the difference Gully were always in the game and as Knox City attack's remained fruitless in the second half the Gully were more confident of levelling the score, particularly in the last 20 minutes.

MORELAND 2 ELTHAM 0. Scorer: Ferretter (37th and 42nd min.).

MORELAND: Debuting Duncanson, Kelly, Black, Appleby, Brail, Katz, Williams, Ferretter, Marshall, Evans, Joe Abonyi, Peter, Oates.

ELTHAM: Danny Rick, Ralph Crowley, Phil Hopkinson, Alan Raynes, Mick Circa, Danny Spaniak, Stewart Taylor, Gordon McIntosh, David Norton, Ron Vanderzant, Fred Vanderzant, Kevin Emsden, Bill Horna.

However Katz blotted his copybook in the 32nd minute when he shot wide from a penalty for a foul in the box.

Within five minutes however, Moreland took the lead when a silly error on the right saw Ferretter pounce on the ball and, cutting in, slammed the ball past Dick.

Within five minutes Moreland increased the lead again through Ferretter. He capitalised on a slip in the mud by Brown and slotted the ball past goal.

The second half saw Moreland go all out for more goals but strong defensive play by Crowley, Raynes and Hopkinson, stopped them.

Any time that Moreland broke through they found Dick in top form and he brought off some fine saves. Eltham had chances to score but were foiled by the quick covering and smothering by the Moreland defence.

A free kick from Kevin Emsden was well saved under the bar by Debuting and on another occasion three Eltham players tried to blast the ball through the defenders on the line rather than place the ball into the net.

Best for Eltham: Dick Raynes, Hopkinson, Crowley, Moreland, Katz, Duncanson, Ferretter.

Reserves: MORELAND 1 ELTHAM 0. After having 85% of the play Eltham still failed to score and, having given away an early goal through slack defensive play, paid the penalty. Best players: Eltham: Gary Dressler, Mick Walsby, Andy Lee, Kevin Emsden, Moreland: Joe Abonyi, Paul Pesani and Costa.

Third Division DONCASTER ROVERS 3 FORTHY (20th min., 47th min.), Willemborg (40th min.), MOOROOLBARK 0.

DONCASTER ROVERS: Gadd, De Rosbo, Lickas, Ted Long, Humble, Williams, Copeland, Fargher, Anselma, Willemborg Subs: Allen, O'Loughlin, Shaw.

MOOROOLBARK: Taylor, Smith, Brown, Murphy, Howard, Masters, Earl, Weeks, Priestley (9), Abram, House, Subs: Pappas, Priestley (M).

Rovers were in fine form after their victory over Morwell 'Falcons' the previous week and forced two corners in the opening minutes which Taylor in the Barkers' goal dealt with well.

It wasn't all one-way traffic however, as the tall Priestley, leading Mooroolbark's attack, looked dangerous and long-range effort from him almost caught Steve Bado napping.

An injury to Rovers' star, who had made a well timed run from defence, took it almost to the end line before centering to Forsyth whose volley into the corner of the net gave the plucky Barkers' makeshift keeper, no chance. It was Rovers' 1-0 lead.

After half-time Rovers went straight into attack and Copeland again was prominent as he set up the move which gave Forsyth his second and Doncaster their third goal a minute into the second half.

The Dons should have found the net several more times and the midfielders joined in the attack and Humble drove a long shot high over the bar.

Moorelbank's final efforts saw two nice saves from Gadd, one an acrobatic backward leap to gather in a lobbing ball.

Moorelbank had no answer to the powerful tackling and covering of Humble, and the prompting of Copeland and Williams and never looked like staying with the Dons.

Rovers now face Prahran on Saturday in what would be one of their most crucial games of the season.

ESSENDON 2 PRAHRAN CITY 3. Scorer: Essendon 8 mins. and 82nd min. Prahran City: Brown (40th min. and 51st min.), Citerella (55th min.).

PRAHRAN: David Graham, Joe Koba, Eddie Farbrother, Stephen Freund, Peter O'Sullivan, Ronnie Brown, Jimmy Graham, Sergio Citerella, Graham Hollingsworth, Donovan De Cerri.

Essendon opened the score when a half-hearted shot was deflected past the Prahran keeper. The visitors then exerted a lot of pressure on the Essendon defence, with left-wing Freund going close to scoring twice.

The pressure took its toll when, from a Citerella corner, Brown flicked the ball inside the post. Half time 1-1. Five minutes into the second half Brown slammed home a 30 yard volley to make it 2-1 for Prahran. Citerella then broke through and dribbled the ball around Essendon's keeper to make it 3-1.

Essendon pulled on back form a deflected free-kick.

Fourth Division PARK RANGERS 5 (White 2, Scott 2, Ashton) MONASH UNIVERSITY 0.

RANGERS: Vassil, Copley, Clancy, Semini, McCormack, Hill, Scott, Parsons, White, Ashton, Kelly.

Before this game, Monash was top of the Fourth Division, a point clear, of Werribee.

However, Park Rangers thrashed the Uni boys so easily that it made Monash look like the team was on the bottom.

Star of the game was Martin White, who scored two goals and inspired his side throughout the game.

Scott and Parsons also played very well, but it was White who paved the way for Rangers' big win.

Park Rangers are confident that the team will now go to the top of the division. The club meets fellow promotion hopefuls Werribee in two weeks, and that game will have a big bearing on who wins the championship.

SANDY CITY 5 MORNINGTON 0. Scorer: Kennedy (4th, 10th, 65th min.), Boggan (28th min.).

SANDRINGHAM: Pugliese, Allister, Ragg, McColligan, Fathers, Grundy, Drida, Boggan, Kennedy, Antoniou, Palmer, Shadick, Childs.

MORNINGTON: Robson, McNeely, Glencross, Silars, Salter, Hughes, Smith, Burdett, Cox Lines, Brading, Baskin, Minovic.

This game proved to be an easy win for Sandy on a bad pitch and in terrible conditions. An outstanding display by John Antoniou was the highlight of this game. His non-stop chasing and running of the ball were excellent.

John is one of a promising crop of Sandy youngsters and his shining display was instrumental in this first win of the season.

Two goals in the first ten minutes by Kennedy set the seal on the game. From then on Sandy probed forward and could have had many more goals.

To their credit, Mornington would not surrender and if they had more bite up front they could have reaped rewards for their fine skills of control in midfield.

Both Sandringham full-backs played well and helped out to the Mornington wingers. All in all, it was the win that Sandy needed to boost their morale for this week's important encounter at Werribee.

Best players: Sandy - J. Antoniou, G. Boggan, J. Kennedy, Mornington: R. Cox, P. Baskin, P. McNeely.

Provisional One BALLARAT 0 GREENSBOROUGH 3. Scorer: Brough (23rd min.), Beer (70th min.), McMillan (80th min.).

GREENSBOROUGH: Payne, Norris, Robertson, Koenen, McGill, Gentry, Bass, Maruff, Scafe, Beard, Vant-Hoff, Beer, Sirkadi.

Greensborough, with a total of 13 leaders, are making an effort to unite the club by different means, one of which includes alterations to the pavilion at Willinda Park.

Award to White

MARTIN WHITE of Park Rangers is the 'Soccer Action' - Shuggy's Bistro Metropolitan League player of the week. He wins a dinner for two at the Bistro. All winners of the Metro player of the week award should phone Shuggy's (see ad on this page for number) for details. Next week's winner will come from the First Division.

1000 at first day of camp

Australian Soccer Camps, under the leadership of Rale Rasic, kicked off again in Sydney for the school holidays even bigger and better than before.

This time more than 60 youngsters are able to live in at Englefield Stadium, Dural, making this a unique coaching camp in Australia.

More than 1000 people and their children turned up on the first day (see picture) for an informal chat with Rasic.

The children are instructed in all facets of soccer by top coaches, including Raul Blanco and Marconi winger Peter Sharne.

Australian Soccer Camps come to Melbourne from May 22-24 with sessions run by Bobby McLaughlin, Chris Kent, Mendo Ristovski, Jim Armstrong and Mike de Bruyckers.

Adamovic fires again with 5

By RON DARLINGTON

Round six of the Victorian Industrial League championship saw several teams register their first wins of the season and new league leaders in Division 2 and 4.

NILS ADAMOVIĆ had a great game for Tarax 'A' and scored all the team's goals in their 5-2 defeat of Sperry Vickers.

There seems to be no stopping Pegasus who, after defeating W.D. & H.O. Wills 3-0, have a three-point lead over second club Roman Leathergoods who dropped a point at home to Bosch Dynamo 'A'.

Public Works 'A' were sailing home in grand style against Meko Holdings but in the second half Meko came more into the game and the Workers were glad to escape with a point.

Bowater Scott staged a great comeback against R.A.C.V. who led by two Peter Gray goals at the interval. Phil Dunning put the Scotts on level terms, and shortly before the end Ernie Howarth caught the ball on the volley driving a throw-in to score the winner.

In Division 2 Colyer Watson Rovers surprisingly dropped a home point to A.N.Z. Bank 'A' in a tight game but it was still sufficient for them to regain the top spot as Ansett went down 0-2 at Diecart.

Middle Park V.R.I. 'A' are level on points with the powers after defeating T.A.A. 1-0 and with Siemens 'A' defeating Philip Morris 3-1 and B.A.S. helped by five Sam Galloway goals winning 6-1 at Ford Falcons, there is the unusual sight of three teams covering nine teams with a third of the season gone.

It's not as close in Division 3 East where C.B.C. Bank and Lysaght are making it a two-horse race. Lysaght closed the gap on C.B.C. by beating them 2-1 and with a superb performance are well placed.

Keely United took third spot from Travellers Melbourne by beating them 2-1 which means both these clubs lay the leaders by three points.

Both Bosch Dynamo 'B' and Fibre Containers registered their first wins of the season, the former beating A.C.I. Box Hill 2-1 and the latter Centre United 3-2.

Boggi to Fawcner

Tony Boggi (pictured), who coached Fitzroy Alexander recently, has been snapped up as coach of Victorian Fourth Division club Fawcner.

Boggi calls Fawcner "the little Marconi."

He coached many of the Fawcner players when they were at Juventus.

The include Dino DeMarchi, Carlo Baravelli, Dario Epifano, and Carlo Sabidussi.

Eltham is looking for experienced players. Anyone interested should ring Gordon Kirkwood on 347-1544 ext. 231 or Ken Maxwell on 49-3095.

ROTHMANS GOALKEEPER OF THE WEEK

SUNSHINE CITY 1 (Lainig 61st min) HAKOAH 0

SUNSHINE: Scholten 7, Dixey 8, Lowe 7, Ellis 7, Howe 7, Mussel 6, Banagan 6, R. Nelson 6, D. Nelson 6, Pocock 7, Laing 6.
HAKOAH: Whiteside 6, Valli 6, Baker 6, Edmondson 7, Jordanov 6, Dapertis 6, Blair 6, Gibson 6, Gaddy 6, French 6, Clarye 6 (Craig 62nd min).
Sunshine City made a prize catch when the club signed Nick Lowe, the former Oxford Utd player, from Mooroolbark on a free transfer.
Lowe, who signed from Sunshine last Thursday, came to Australia last year with Barrie Fairbrother, the former Millwall and Orient striker, to play with Mooroolbark.
It's surprising that Lowe was released from Mooroolbark, which was heavily in debt after the inaugural Phillips League season, had fought tooth and nail to get money for any player cleared by the club. Lowe would be worth at least $2000 in present transfer market conditions.
Lowe played as sweeper, and had a good debut.

Wilkinson hurt in comeback

FRANKSTON CITY 2 (MacGregor 2, 35th min., 43rd min) GEORGE CROSS 1 (Cullen 75th min).

FRANKSTON: Petersen, V. Bannan, Irvine, Gillespie, Williamson, Tulloch, Parrot, G. Bannan, MacGregor, Eddie, Webster.
CROSS: Rice, McConville, Mitsu (Paparas 75th min), Maitland, Barron, Cullen, Wilkinson (Barni 20th min), Murphy, Reed, Webb, Mirak.
Two missed penalties by George Cross helped Frankston City stay in touch with Croatia.
Paul Murphy slammed his spot kick against the bar and Derek Barron fluffed a great chance to equalise two minutes from the end when his spot kick was saved by Frank Petersen, who covered himself in glory.
Frankston meets Croatia in two weeks, and the match will be part of the official opening of the club's new ground.
Century Park, McClelland Drive, is the venue for the big clash on June 16, and Cr. Max Batchelor, the Mayor of Frankston, local MPs and Victorian Soccer Federation officials will be there.
Frankston will get its big chance to stake a claim for the State League championship if the team can out-gun Croatia, but the baysiders must keep winning.
Gordon MacGregor finally came good for Frankston, and his two goals in this game are his first for the club.
His second, a diving header, brought the crowd to its feet, but still Frankston could do with more punch up front.
Alan Parrot played a serviceable game in the midfield for Frankston, but he missed a few opportunities to score after coming forward.
Billy Wilkinson had a miserable return to soccer, getting carried off after 20 minutes. It was a tackle by Ged Bannan that floored Wilkinson, and he was carried off.

For Hakoah, $6000 man Graham French played the best he has since transferring from South Melbourne Hellas.
The former Mooroolbark striker put plenty of effort into his game and wasn't deterred when the Sunshine backmen started getting stuck into him.
He hit the post with one shot, and did a lot of hard running when chasing through balls or pressuring the Sunshine defence.
However, Hakoah's overall team performance was disappointing. Only when the team went behind did it start pushing forward with urgency to pressure the Sunshine goal.
During the last 20 minutes, Hakoah's passing was crisp and midfielders John Dapertis and Ian Gibson started running into good, dead attacking positions.
But in the time preceding the Sunshine goal, Hakoah was slow building up attacks, and didn't play as a team.
Gibson was quiet, and the team prepared to run at the Sunshine defenders, preferring to push the ball square or pump it into the penalty area.
A lot of credit for Sunshine's victory must go to the side's back four. Lowe, Mike Dixey, Dave Ellis and Hugh Howe who tackled fast and hard, and didn't crack when subjected to a lot of pressure late in the game.
Goalkeeper John Scholten handled all crosses well and saved at French's feet when it looked certain he would score the equaliser goal 10 minutes from the end.
Sunshine centre forward Ray Pocock played extremely well. He was always trying to open up the Sunshine forward line with flicks and made good position when his side broke out of defence into attack.
Pocock set up a good opportunity for Will Laing in the first half. He went wide, then received a through ball from the middle. While Hakoah was appealing for offside, Pocock took the ball to the byeline then cut it back into the path of Laing.
Laing was on the corner of the yard box but his shot was saved by Billy Whiteside.
Later in the first half, Laing combined with Frank Mussel and the ball hit the post. The Sunshine men had chased a long, bouncing through ball, and one of them got a top to it before Whiteside or Gerry Edmondson could clear.
Sunshine's attacks in the first half were much more venomous than Hakoah's. Sunshine broke out of defence quickly and relied on trying to break through the Hakoah defence using through balls, rather than constructing an attack, as Hakoah did.
The Sunshine team had more fighting spirit than Hakoah, and this was evident by the way the City boys chased back and tackled.
Hakoah pushed the ball around well in midfield but while this sometimes is good to watch, it doesn't necessarily create goals.
Gibson came close to scoring after a long run by French put him through Scholten came out to block the shot but it was mainly the challenge by Howe that let the net.
French hit a hard, low shot towards goal, but Scholten got down well to collect it.
Sunshine's goal came after a raid down the left flank. With the Hakoah back four stretched, Sunshine did it easily, taking the ball to the byeline and cutting it back. Laing was on hand to poke it into the net.
After the goal Sunshine sat back and soaked up the Hakoah pressure. Mussel and Rob Nelson must get credit for the job they did in the midfield during this time.
The two midfielders helped out their defence, making it harder for Hakoah to get an equaliser.
The bad feature of the game was the three sunny by French put him through Scholten came out to block the shot but it was mainly the challenge by Howe that let the net.
However, one of the highlights was a pass by Hakoah's David Baker in the opening minutes. He was on the half-way line and had the ball pushed back to him. Hakoah had been attacking, so most of the players were in front of Baker in the Sunshine half of the field. He looked up and saw Stewart Blair deep in the Sunshine half on the touchline. Baker passed the ball to his foot from a distance of 40 yards over several Sunshine players.
The win for Sunshine was a good tonic after last week's dismal display against Makedonia, but Hakoah hasn't yet played as a team, although the four attacks of a good side are there.

Rothmans goalie of the week

FRANK PETERSEN of Frankston City is the Rothmans goalkeeper of the week. The leading goalkeeper in the State League will receive $250.

Victorian State League with KYLE PATTERSON

ALBION LEYLAND 3 (McCormack 2, 30th 35th mins., Quinn 41st min.) ALTONA CITY 1 (Brown pen 88th min).

LEYLAND: Ower, Dapertis (sent off 70th min), McClusky, Blair, Johnston, Davidson, McIntyre, Grechan, Milten, McCormack, Quinn.
ALTONA: van der Poel, Plessa, Gramsberger, Murray, Train, Davidson, Walters, Brown, Ackers, Little (Ignatidis 75th min), Taylor.
Albion Leyland, hard-hit by walk outs, suspensions and now the unavailability of goalkeeper Jeff Ower and Mick D'Sylva, who are with the Victorian under 18 side in Brisbane, has made moves to have the club's game against Green Gully postponed.
However, there's little chance that the club's request will be granted by the Victorian Soccer Federation.
Leyland will be further short-staffed if full back Jim Dapertis gets suspended when he faces the tribunal on Wednesday night. Dapertis was sent off after handballing deliberately twice during the game.
Ower and D'Sylva may be back in Melbourne on Friday, depending on how their team fares in the national championships.
The club is still in a stalemate with Alan Lenders and George Makousis, who have walked out.
Albion grabbed the club's second win of the season after a dynamic 20-minute spell before half time. During that time, Albion rattled home three goals, and had Albion ducking for cover.
However, for the opening part of the last 45 minutes, Albion was the better side. City pushed the ball around in the middle of the park and its only failing was up front, where finishing was poor.
Albion turned the tide with a breakaway goal by curly Bill McCormack, and that sent Leyland surging forward.
Using the long ball to good effect, Albion made the most of the chances it created. Hans van der Poel in the Albion goal had a bad day, and he could be blamed for the third goal. He weakly palmed a corner, and the ball fell to Kit Grechan, whose shot was blocked before Alan Quinn slotted it home.
A sloppy pass by George Train let Albion in for the first goal. However, nothing should be taken away from Albion as it made the most of the chances it got, whereas Albion was never positive near goal.
The second half belonged to Albion, but good keeping by Ower, solid defending by Danny McClusky and some erratic shooting by the Albion forwards saw Albion's three-goal lead intact until the 88th minute. An Albion Brown penalty kick pulled one back for City.
Nat Little and Bob Taylor were Albion's best players, but the side should have aimed Albion, particularly in the second half, when Leyland was down to 10 men.
Albion coach Joe Wilson said after the game that the club would have to be careful or it would slip down the State League ladder.
"We've got good results in the past with the players we have," said Wilson, "but some of the boys aren't playing as well anymore. We'll be on the lookout for a striker for a start."
"We've got to get the points at the start of the season, because it's so hard to get them near the end of the year when your backs are against the wall."

GREEN GULLY 0 JUVENTUS 1. (Sabdussi 34th).

GREEN GULLY: Denys, Klain, Donaldson (Segi 58th), Patten, Cain, J. Thompson, McCarthy, Bennie, L. Thomson, Tribuzio, Perkin.
JUVENTUS: Graham, Della Rocca (Curcio 5th), Sabadini, Pfisterer, Walker, C. Lucchesi, Smith, Sabdussi, Waking, Armstrong, Hobson.
HUGH GRAHAM brought off a brilliant save midway through the second half to deny Gully an equaliser the team so richly deserved.
Albion had attacked for most of the second half in search of the elusive goal but were thwarted by the Juve keeper and the post.
Graham made a full length dive to stop a shot on the turn from just outside the six yard box by Gerry Tribuzio after Andy Segi had crossed hard and low into the area.
The keeper showed superb reflexes in reaching the bar and earned the admiration of the Albion followers.
Five minutes later Gully again came close. David Perkin received a short corner from Joe Thompson and crossed into the box for Segi to connect and head past Graham only to see the ball hit the post.
The match had started with Juventus on the offensive.
Albion coach Duncan McKay played the game with a mild of foul play but it was a reversal of the first, with Gully doing all the attacking.

ESSENDON CROATIA 4 (Cumming 8th min., Murphy 22nd min., Vojtek 65th min., Gilder 77th min.) SLAVIA 0.

CROATIA: Franc, Smart, Gardiner, Kokoski, Bilavur, Murphy, Andrews, Kar, Cumming (Gilder 70th min.), Vojtek, Colina.
SLAVIA: Clarke, Thompson, Miller, Zvendom, Short (sent off 80th min), Train, Plummer (injured, Turner 30th min), Jellon, Patten, Aldridge, Williams.
Karl Cumming's scoreline suggests that Slavia was given a hiding by league leader Croatia, the game was even in most departments.
Croatia excelled in putting away the chances created, while Slavia was hesitant and indecisive up front.
Both teams built up their attacks well and play was often fast and open. However, it was Croatia which had the ability to end off a build up with a shot or a decisive pass to a man in a scoring position.
Croatia makes chances by pressing offensive defenders, and this is what put the team into the lead.
Tommy Cumming intercepted a sloppy pass and picked the ball over the helpless Peter Clarke.
Carl Gilder, Croatia's latest signing, made his debut against his old club, and celebrated in style by scoring a goal. He cost the club $2,000.
Gilder's transfer didn't please Nick Kuzmanov, and he walked out on the club on the weekend. Kuzmanov probably feels that he's been dealt a bad hand and that his chances of making a name for himself have been given the chance to try to fill the injured Eddie Krcinovic's boots before Gilder was bought.
It's not known if Kuzmanov now wants to leave the club.
Slavia's Steve Short got his marching orders in the 80th minute after elbowing Billy Vojtek in the face. The full back picked the wrong time to lash out, as the referee was only a yard or two away and had no hesitation reaching for his red card.
The score at the time was 4-0, so Short's exit had no bearing on the outcome.
Croatia's performance was one of its better ones this season. The defence was as strong as usual and in injured Alan Kerr was very creative.
Ken Murphy was Croatia's best player and his pace and skill is invaluable in the midfield. Murphy has scored and set up many goals by running with the ball from midfield and unleashing shots at goal. Many keepers don't expect shots from the distance that Murphy often fires from and either are wrong or fumble the ball and allow a forward to follow up and score.
Croatia's second goal came from Murphy. His long shot caught Peter Clarke by surprise, and he will be kicking himself for letting in such a soft goal.
However, even when Slavia was 2-0 down the team continued to push forward. Had not so many of the side's attacking moves broken down around the penalty area, Slavia could've got back into the game.
Two goals towards the end of the game sealed Slavia's fate, but the team still has the ability to make the final four.

Kingwood men fired

MAKEDONIA 1 (Blasevski 48th min) RINGWOOD CITY 0.

MAKEDONIA: Leumets, Glasen 5, Brewerton 6, Hooper 6, Blasevski 7, Glenon 6, McClintock 6, McMillan 5, Bernard 8, Savelki 6.
RINGWOOD: Wilding 6, Adams 6, Luyten 6, Carmay 6, Verniers 6, G. Greenwald 6 (W. Greenwald 58th min), ead, Tommy Cumming in.
Ringwood coach Freddy Bunce has fined eight of his players for disciplinary reasons.
Slaves slapped the fines on the players for "rolling up to training when they felt like it and arriving at the games only 20 minutes before kick off."
"Discipline will be more strict from now on," said Bunce after his team's loss to Makedonia, the fifth on end. "We can't afford to have a slack attitude. We're not second to relegation, even if a lot of people are saying we are."
Bunce added that this week's game against Hakoah was crucial and had to be won.
Makedonia's win gives coach Eric Leslie a 100% record after two games. However, full back Tim Gladding has returned to Perth. While the club says Gladding returned because of an illness to MAKEDONIA 1 (Blasevski 48th min) RINGWOOD CITY 0.

Dumbell, who is now looking for another club, says Makedonia has yet to meet contractual obligations, and claims several players, including George McMillan and Bill McClintock, want to leave the club.
Club president John Zikos denies there's any player trouble, and says that there's no problems with Dumbell's contract.
Although not terribly impressive, Makedonia did enough to secure the two points.
The first half was even and Ringwood matched Makedonia in midfield, but made little headway up front, where strikers John O'Callaghan, Richard Plumb and Brian Thom were swamped by Makedonia's five-man backline.
Makedonian import Dragan Blasevski played well at centre half, and topped off a good display by scoring the winning goal three minutes into the second half.

John Bernard was the mainstay of the Makedonia front line but his buzzing around wasn't infectious, as McMillan had a quiet game.
Bunce experimented, using David Garthwaite in a defensive midfield role and pushing Brian Carnaby back into the half back spot.
The moves weren't unsuccessful, but still Ringwood is looking for form formula.
Keith Adams dropped back to full back to take the place of the omitted Kupprie. Gary Greenwald came into the midfield.
Willy Coulson once again showed endeavour and skill and as long as he's in Ringwood has a chance of recovering.
O'Callaghan had Ringwood's best chance of the game in the second half, but he mis-hit his shot after working his way into a good position. The club says Gladding returned because of an illness to

Glorious Graham

Nigel Daniels, who arrived last week was unable to play because his clearance from the English Football Association didn't arrive in time.
Juventus lined up without their new signing Jim Symington. He left for Scotland only a week after transferring from Slavia, due to a family bereavement. He is expected back later this week.
Juventus is waiting for a new striker to come from Scotland, and coach Bob McLachlan is hoping he will give the side the finishing power the team has been lacking.
Stewart Juve fullback Pat Sella Rocca came off second best in a tackle in the first five minutes and hobbled off soon after.
He has damaged the ligaments in a knee, and the injury could keep him out for at least a month.
Klain clearly won the duel with Watkins and had him shackled for most of the match.
Juve scored a cross pumped from the right and saw Claude Lucchesi collect the ball and lay it on for Bruno Sabdussi, who planted it past Lou Denys for his first goal of the season.
The second half saw a reversal of the first, with Gully doing all the attacking.

GREEN GULLY 0 JUVENTUS 1. (Sabdussi 34th).

Juve's central defenders Steve Walker and Phil Patten dealt with all high balls aimed at Tribuzio, and it was only when Gully used the wings to go round fullbacks that the side tested Graham in goal.
Juventus' main danger man was John Holson, who took men on at will, and presented Jim Armstrong with the side's only chance in the second half.
Holson made ground on the left and beat three defenders in a twisting run, but he was not at all, and presented Jim Armstrong with the side's only chance in the second half.
Coach McLachlan will miss Juve's Phillips Cup clash with George Cross tonight, as he is in Brisbane with the Victorian under 18 team. However, he will be phoning Melbourne after the game to find out the result, hoping it will be a good news.

GREEN GULLY 0 JUVENTUS 1. (Sabdussi 34th).

"If we can get through the second round," said McLachlan, "I'm sure we'll do well." Think Juventus would play better against P.S. 19 teams because they rely on skill, not the physical side, as most State League sides do. Juve has plenty of skilful, creative players, so the P.S. 19 would suit us.
McLachlan said also that Juventus would like to sign Brian Stoddart, the transfer-listed Canberra City striker, but not for $7,000, which is what Canberra has put on Stoddart's head.
Green Gully lost, but entertained the fans. The match had interest in it right up to the final whistle, and none of the spectators, who braved the adverse conditions, left before the end.

Kuzmanov is angry

Nick Kuzmanov has scored and set up many goals by running with the ball from midfield and unleashing shots at goal. Many keepers don't expect shots from the distance that Murphy often fires from and either are wrong or fumble the ball and allow a forward to follow up and score.
Croatia's second goal came from Murphy. His long shot caught Peter Clarke by surprise, and he will be kicking himself for letting in such a soft goal.
However, even when Slavia was 2-0 down the team continued to push forward. Had not so many of the side's attacking moves broken down around the penalty area, Slavia could've got back into the game.
Two goals towards the end of the game sealed Slavia's fate, but the team still has the ability to make the final four.

his girlfriend's mother, other sources say that Gladding walked out after Bill Dumbell was sacked as coach two weeks ago.
Dumbell, who is now looking for another club, says Makedonia has yet to meet contractual obligations, and claims several players, including George McMillan and Bill McClintock, want to leave the club.
Club president John Zikos denies there's any player trouble, and says that there's no problems with Dumbell's contract.
Although not terribly impressive, Makedonia did enough to secure the two points.
The first half was even and Ringwood matched Makedonia in midfield, but made little headway up front, where strikers John O'Callaghan, Richard Plumb and Brian Thom were swamped by Makedonia's five-man backline.
Makedonian import Dragan Blasevski played well at centre half, and topped off a good display by scoring the winning goal three minutes into the second half.
The goal sunk Ringwood. A lot of heads dropped and the spirit drained of the side.

John Bernard was the mainstay of the Makedonia front line but his buzzing around wasn't infectious, as McMillan had a quiet game.
Bunce experimented, using David Garthwaite in a defensive midfield role and pushing Brian Carnaby back into the half back spot.
The moves weren't unsuccessful, but still Ringwood is looking for form formula.
Keith Adams dropped back to full back to take the place of the omitted Kupprie. Gary Greenwald came into the midfield.
Willy Coulson once again showed endeavour and skill and as long as he's in Ringwood has a chance of recovering.
O'Callaghan had Ringwood's best chance of the game in the second half, but he mis-hit his shot after working his way into a good position. The club says Gladding returned because of an illness to

Glorious Graham

Nigel Daniels, who arrived last week was unable to play because his clearance from the English Football Association didn't arrive in time.
Juventus lined up without their new signing Jim Symington. He left for Scotland only a week after transferring from Slavia, due to a family bereavement. He is expected back later this week.
Juventus is waiting for a new striker to come from Scotland, and coach Bob McLachlan is hoping he will give the side the finishing power the team has been lacking.
Stewart Juve fullback Pat Sella Rocca came off second best in a tackle in the first five minutes and hobbled off soon after.
He has damaged the ligaments in a knee, and the injury could keep him out for at least a month.
Klain clearly won the duel with Watkins and had him shackled for most of the match.
Juve scored a cross pumped from the right and saw Claude Lucchesi collect the ball and lay it on for Bruno Sabdussi, who planted it past Lou Denys for his first goal of the season.
The second half saw a reversal of the first, with Gully doing all the attacking.

GREEN GULLY 0 JUVENTUS 1. (Sabdussi 34th).

Juve's central defenders Steve Walker and Phil Patten dealt with all high balls aimed at Tribuzio, and it was only when Gully used the wings to go round fullbacks that the side tested Graham in goal.
Juventus' main danger man was John Holson, who took men on at will, and presented Jim Armstrong with the side's only chance in the second half.
Holson made ground on the left and beat three defenders in a twisting run, but he was not at all, and presented Jim Armstrong with the side's only chance in the second half.
Coach McLachlan will miss Juve's Phillips Cup clash with George Cross tonight, as he is in Brisbane with the Victorian under 18 team. However, he will be phoning Melbourne after the game to find out the result, hoping it will be a good news.

GREEN GULLY 0 JUVENTUS 1. (Sabdussi 34th).

"If we can get through the second round," said McLachlan, "I'm sure we'll do well." Think Juventus would play better against P.S. 19 teams because they rely on skill, not the physical side, as most State League sides do. Juve has plenty of skilful, creative players, so the P.S. 19 would suit us.
McLachlan said also that Juventus would like to sign Brian Stoddart, the transfer-listed Canberra City striker, but not for $7,000, which is what Canberra has put on Stoddart's head.
Green Gully lost, but entertained the fans. The match had interest in it right up to the final whistle, and none of the spectators, who braved the adverse conditions

ZIKA NIKOLIC

Mnogi timovi bi pozeleli da imaju četvrtinu sansi koje ima JUST na svakoj utakmici Philips Nacionalne Lige. Na zalost, navalni igrači JUST-a ih retko koriste, sto je poznata jugoslovenska bolest. Utakmica JUST — Newcastle je jedna od mnogih primera kako ne treba igrati nogomet. Iako je kisa padala, atmosfera je bila divna. Hiljade navijaca je odlucilo da pokusaju do kostiju ubediti da ce ih "plavi" zagrejati efikasnom igrom i pobedom. Medjutim, dogodilo se suprotno, pa zbog toga treba traziti lek. "Plavi" nemaju izrazitog strelca. Dragan Vasic je pokazao takvu odluku prosle godine, ali ove godine mu nije nastalo na nogu, niti glavom. Sto se vise trudi manje uspeva. Ne ostaje nista drugo nego cekati dok ne razbije mauer, jer dobri strelci ne padaju su neba. Kada na to mislim, padne mi na pamet Zeljko Mihanoc, koji sa uspehom igra Aussie Rules u Essendonu, iako je nogomet voleo iznad svega. I znao da ga igra bolje nego stolotine drugh. Takvog talentovanog igraca, pravog bombardera pred protivnickim golom, likvidirali su njegovmetna birokracija i zlobni funkcioneri.

Talentovane igrace sami unistavaju, jer su nam dva boda vaznija od pravog nogometa i sportske razonode. Video sam kako je udaren Edi Krmecic, zatim Cvetan Talevski i mnogi drugi. Talentovani igraci, ako je pored toga mlad i brz, dobice vrlo brzo podmukao udarac, koji ga lako moze onemogostiti za citav zivot. Siguran sam da je Cvetan Talevski postao markirani igrač, koji je dobio dva zdelata da ga udese, jer se drukcije nije mogao zadržati. Standard nash sudija je takav da se od njih ne moze ocekivati zasluga, pa mozemo ocekivati ugodno iznenađenje.

ODMOR MOZE POMOCI

Ostaje nam jedino da se pomirimo sa sudbinom, ocekujuci da ce se neko dugo ipak dogoditi. JUST je slobodan 14 dana, a odmor mnogo znaci. U subotu 27. maja "plavi" igraju protiv Aleksandra na svom igralistu u Footscray-u. Do tada cemo svi zaboraviti na poraz sa Newcastlom, pa mozemo ocekivati ugodno iznenađenje.

Drugi tim JUST-a je osvetlao obraz. Pobedo je vrlo dobar tim Port Melbourne, iako je nastupio oslabljen — bez desnog krila Talevskog i menadzera Jospa Sterpina, koji je bio bolestan. Bobjica su se najvise radovali pobedi, cak je Sterpinu pomogla da prezdрави.

Iduce subote, 20. maja, drugi tim JUST-a, koji se vratio na prvo mesto druge divizije, igra protiv Morelanda na svom igralistu u Footscray-u.

PROVIZIONALNA LIGA

INTER-Langwarrin 3:3 (3:0). "Bell" su vodili sa 3:0, dok je vetar bio na njihovoj strani. U drugom poluvremenu "bell" su postigli i dva autogola. Strelci: Smita Dragojevic (iz penala), Franjo Drozdek i Zvonko Macanovic. Bolji od ostalih, Franjo Drozdek i Mic Karafili, koji se posle duzeg odsustva ponovo vratilo na Interov gol. Sastav Inter: Mic Karafili, Milorad Milosavljevic, Karlo Madi, Mirko Bekar, Franjo Drozdek, Zvonko Macanovic, Ante Cetinic, Smito Dragojevic, Zvonko Bartol, Stevan Beluror, Rezerva: Pitra Slavav.

Hawthorn — CENTRAL ALTONA 0:2 (0:0). Ovog puta Central Altona je igrala konstruktivno. Brzo dodavanje sa prodorima preko krila, zbunili su protivnika, koji se uspesno branio same prvo poluvremene. Central Altona je poslala dosta suteva na gol, od kojih su dva zavrсила u mrezi, dva puta je pogodjena stativa, dok je preko precke prohujalo nekoliko opasnih lopti. Ovo je bila jedna od najlepših utakmica koju je putnik iz Central Altona, Strelci: Djordje Markovski 7/0 i Lazar Lazarevski u 85. minutu. Sastav Central Altona: Surbavski, Kekovski, Markovski, Tundjevski, Stojekovic. Iduce subote Central Altona igra protiv Buleena na svom igralistu.

AMATERSKA PRVENSTVA

Sastav Vojvodine: S. Peska, Dragi Jucevski, Ljube Kitanovski, John Skienar, Paul Gallo, Pero Kolevski, Fred Von Nagy, Jack Kordanovski, Andrija Stresnjak, Andy Kotvas, Slobodan Dimitrijević. INDUSTRIJSKA LIGA

Sperry Vicker-TARAX 2:5 (0:4). Na ovoj utakmici proslavili su se Milos Adamovic, koji je dao 5 golova i sudija, koji je svirao 4 jedanaesterca (tri u korist domaćeg tima, ali je Kazi Idranovic dva). KPored Adamovica, koji vodi na listi strelaca Industrijske lige sa 11 golova, najbolji je bio golman Sander Kazi. Treba poverovati Jos Jovana Milinova, koji se odlucio snasao po blatu i kisi. Taraxa igrala je nerenseno 2:2 sa Public Works-om, Oba gola je postigao Papegonosov, dok su najbolji igrači bili Drago Karaga, Cooper i Psatis.

PEGASUS-Willa 9:0. Pegasus je los vec jedini nepobedjen tim u Industrijskoj ligi. Strelci: Joe Moore, Roman Petelinick i Stef Sabljak. Sastav Pegasus: Kurjan 7, T. Placko 7, Harris 6, Petelinick 8, Moore 8, Stanovic 7, Sabljak 7, Taylor 7, Fusi 6, Pavlovic 7, Ovarc 7.

Slavia is inviting schools to send interested students to Melbourne Showgrounds as the club's guests during the 1978 State League season.

Slavia has also developed a team of senior players to act as coaches and assistant coaches to work with students in schools.

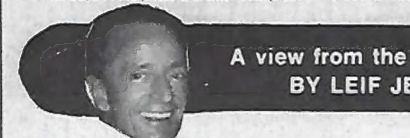

Lyndale United under 13s have been in great form this year, having won all their games.

The remarkable thing about them is that they started only last year and only four of the team had played soccer before.

In their first season they finished a creditable third and this season they head the Dandenong 'B' league.

Already one of the team has gained selection to the Dandenong regional under 13 squad. His name is Ralph Renssion, an ex-Melbourne junior.

LIVERPOOL, HOLLAND

A moment of magic between Scottish World cup stars Graeme Souness and Kenny Dalglish swept Liverpool to a 1-0 victory against Belgian champion Bruges in the final of the European Cup at Wembley last week.

The match was not a classic but Liverpool fully deserved to retain the trophy — Europe's leading club prize — which it first won last year in Rome.

Liverpool had battered the white-shirted Bruges defence for 64 minutes before it finally broke through. The Belgians, using a highly-efficient offside trap, continually frustrated the English club's efforts and when they did manage to get a sight of goal, Danish goalkeeper, Birger Jensen was in commanding form.

England international Terry McDermott began the move which led to Liverpool's precious goal, hitting the ball along the line to Dalglish. Dalglish then flicked the ball on to Souness and was on hand to receive the return pass and calmly chip the ball wide as the advancing and unprotected Jensen.

In Eindhoven, Holland, a few days earlier, PSV Eindhoven won the UEFA Cup when they beat Bastia of France 3-0 in the second leg match. Halftime score was 1-0.

Scorers: Willy van de Kerkhof (24), Gorrie Deykers (84), Willy van der Kuypen (67). Aggregate score 3-0.

Teams for the European Cup final:

LIVERPOOL: Clemence, Neal, Hanson, Thompson, Hughes, Kennedy, Souness, McDermott, Case (Highway 63rd) Dalglish, Fairclough.

BRUGES: Jensen, Bastyns, Krieger, Leekens, Maes, Coels, Vander Eycken, Volders, De Cuyper, Sorensen, Vernooke.

Referee: C. Corver (Holland).

Roads to the final — BRUGES: first round: v PSV Kuopio (Finland) 9-2, on aggregate, second round: Panathinaikos (Greece) 2-1, quarter-finals: Atletico Madrid (Spain) 4-3. Semi-finals: Juventus (Italy) 2-1.

LIVERPOOL: first round: v Juventus (Italy) 2-1, quarter-finals: ENFICA (Portugal) 8-2. Semi-finals: Borussia Moenchengladbach (West Germany) 4-2.

7 goals, then off

This is Michael Tenace, 10, a star of Tatura Juniors in the Victorian North Eastern League.

Michael plays for the under 13s as well as the under 16s. In one recent under 13 game against Seymour, he scored seven goals, before being taken off to prepare for the under 16 game later in the afternoon.

Hat-trick of hat-tricks!

It is rare indeed that a player scores a hat-trick of hat-tricks. Jim Teatos 13 of Collingwood City achieved such a feat in consecutive weeks recently.

First he scored four goals against Upper Yarra on April 23, then netted five against Upper Yarra on April 30 and added another four against Melbourne on May 7.

Congratulations, Jim. Keep those goals coming.

TOKYO, 1971: Attila Abonyi (left) scores his second goal for St George against Japan B in a three-nation tournament won by the Saints.

'I didn't want to be dumped' Abonyi has only one goal left

Attila Abonyi has been deprived of the chance to play a last farewell match for Australia against Greece before he leaves with his club, Sydney Croatia, on a four-week tour of Canada and the U.S. on June 26.

National coach Jim Shoulder left Abonyi out of all three squads to meet Greece next month in Adelaide, Melbourne and Sydney. "I have played 11 years for the national team," Abonyi says proudly, "but let's face it — time has caught up with me."

"However, I didn't want to be dumped like so many other players who have represented their country."

"A little recognition is all that I had hoped for. It would have been great to go out knowing that I played my last international for Australia at home."

"Even if they'd let me play for only 15 minutes, I would have been one hell of a delighted man."

Abonyi, 31, has been capped 61 times for Australia and is the national team's top scorer.

Frank Arok — Abonyi's toughest coach.

Abonyi scores from the penalty spot against Manly in this year's NSW State League premiership.

the first in the history of the club.

Croatia, perhaps more than any other club in Sydney, has a history of not retaining its coaches long.

Does this worry Abonyi, the youngest coach in the State League?

"When I took the job I demanded two things," Abonyi said.

"First I wanted the attitude of the players to be better and secondly I wanted the discipline improved."

"That's the way I was brought up."

"I don't think I ever had a tougher coach than Frank Arok when I was with St. George."

Arok was at St. George in 1969, 1970 and 1972.

Abonyi also had another hard master in Rale Rasic with St. George in 1971.

"I think it is very important too, that players should be professional on and off the park," Abonyi said.

"Players should be able to apply themselves to losing as well as winning."

Abonyi, whose contract with Croatia is as a player and not as coach, was quick to change the team's training set-up.

"I am a firm believer in quick, sharper work," he said.

"In three months' time I would hope that the players automatically know what's to be done on the field."

"I have stressed to my players not to rush their game and just hold possession. They are simple basics."

Abonyi has an old saying which goes: "I regard the ball to be the same as money."

In other-words you have to earn it.

Can Croatia retain the championship this year?

"It's a lot harder to remain champions because everyone is out to beat us," he said.

"I am not over-confident but I have enough trust in the boys to believe they can carry off the title again."

After 167 first team appearances with Melbourne, now in Second Division, he moved to Sydney and joined St. George.

last year when the Philips League was introduced, he chose to stay in State League and joined Croatia.

ALLY DONALDSON: Height 5'11", weight 12 stone. Dundee's first choice "keeper, Ally is in his second spell with the club. He was capped at under-23 and league level earlier in his career.

ERIC SINCLAIR: Height 5'11", weight 11 stone 7 lbs. A powerful striker, Eric takes a lot of weight off his fellow professionals, which is always an indication of the work he does unnoted.

GEORGE MCGEECHIE: Height 5'11", weight 11 stone. Just completing his first season with the club, George was manager Tommy Gemmell's first signing. A strong, versatile player.

ROY MCCORMACK: Height 6'1", weight 12 stone. Roy returned to Scotland only recently after a spell in Australia. Good in the air and scores many spectacular headed goals.

IAN BRADLEY: A young mid-field player, Ian was recently signed from Coltness United, which by coincidence was Tommy Gemmell's own junior side.

DAVE JOHNSTON: Height 5'11", weight 12 stone, 1 lb. A left back, Dave is Dundee's longest serving player, having been 11 years with the club.

IAN PHILLIP: Height 6'1", weight 12 stone 2 lbs. Ian was once transferred to Crystal Palace for 15,000 Pounds. However, he did not settle in London, so Dundee bought him back. A cultured defender.

ΑΝ Η ΒΕΡΟΙΑ

Στις 23 Μαΐου εκδόθηκε το Συμβούλιο 'Επικρατείας ή προσφυγή της Βερόιας κατά της απόφασης της ΔΑΕ για την άφιξη των 10 δασμών.

Αν τελικά δικαιωθεί η Βερόια, τότε προδίδεται να γίνει πραγματικά 'ισογανία' για τα δύο σωματεία που θα υποβιβασθούν, δεδομένου ότι θα απειλούνται ακόμα και ομάδες που έχουν αυτή τη στιγμή 27 δασμούς.

Εν' ευκαιρία υπενθυμίζουμε τους αγώνες που έχουν να δώσουν οι ομάδες που κενδυνεύουν:

● Ο Πιερικός: Με την Παναχαϊκή στην Πάτρα και τον 'Ηρακλή στο 'Καυταντζόγλειο.

● Ο Σέρρες: Με τον 'Αρη στις Σέρρες και εκτός έδρας με την Βέροια.

● Ο Πανιώνιος: Με την Βέροια (έντός) και τον 'Ολυμπιακό (εκτός).

● Η Καβάλα: Με τον 'Ολυμπιακό (έντός) και τα Πάνιννα (εκτός).

● Ο 'Απόλλων: Με 'Ηρακλή (εκτός) και Καστοριά (έντός).

● Η Καστοριά: Με ΠΑΟ (έντός) και 'Απόλλωνα (εκτός).

Ο ΠΑΟ ΒΡΗΚΕ ΤΟΝ ΕΝΑ ΚΥΝΗΟ

Εγκυρως πληροφορίες της «Η» αναφέρουν ότι ο Παναθηναϊκός πραγματοποίησε άθροισμα τις τελευταίες μέρες την πρώτη μεγάλη του μεταγραφή: η ελληνικού επιπέδου.

Πρόκειται για διεθνή επιθετικό δασο, που αναμένεται να ενισχύσει περαιτέρω την γραμμή πυρός της αθηναϊκής ομάδας.

Παράλληλα, η «ΑΒΑΝΤΙ» η «Η» αποκάλυψε προηγουμένως τα όνομα των 2 Ευρωπαίων δασών που είχε προαναγγείλει προηγουμένως η «Η».

Πρόκειται για τον Ρομάνο Γκεοργκέσκου και τον Λούτσιακ Προχάσκα.

Ο Γκεοργκέσκου είναι ο γνωστός γκολκέρ της Ντινμόδ Βουκαρεστίου, ο οποίος έχει κηρύσει δύο χρυσά παπούτσια.

Ο Προχάσκα είναι ο εθνικός μέσος της 'Αούστρια που θαυμάσαμε προηγουμένως στην Τ.Β. εναντίον της 'Αντερλεχτ στο Κύπελλο Κυπελλοκόνων.

Και τους δύο διεκδικεί και ο 'Αγιαξ, ο οποίος πρόσφατα κατέλαβε τον τίτλο και να μπορεί να κινήσει στις μεταγραφές.

Όσοι ο Παναθηναϊκός απ' ότι έχουμε πει, είναι πιο κοντά στην απόκτηση του Γκεοργκέσκου...

Όταν οι παίκτες είναι αγωνιστικοί όλα πάνε καλά κι' ο Παναθηναϊκός, παρά τις θύελλες, που περάσε την έστεινη περίοδο, σημειώνει πολλά γκολ.

Στο προχθεσινό μάτς με τον 'Ηρακλή από θάνακα για μια ακόμη φορά, πολύ καθαρά. Συνεπώς δλοι σκεδόν οι ποδοσφαιριστές κι' α ποφαιρισμένοι να αγωνισθούν υπεύθυνα και σοβαρά, δέν δυσκολοποιήκαν να σημειώσουν πέντε γκολ στον 'Ηρακλή, ενώ είχαν και τρία δοκάρια.

Μπορεί ο 'Ηρακλής να ήταν αδύναμος γι' αυτό το μάτς κι' οι παίκτες του ν' αγωνίσθηκαν με κάποια καλαρότητα, αλλά οι μεγάλες δυνατότητες ύψιστων παικτών του Παναθηναϊκού δέχθηκαν και πάλι στην επίθεση. Φυσικά μέσα από το άσφαριστικό και υπεύθυνο παίξιμο αυτών των παικτών, μέχρι το σημείο να μελογκολήσουν οι κερδισμένοι ε'λαθλοι.

Πά κοίτα όταν θέλουν πόσα πολλά μπορούν να προσφέρουν στην ομάδα...

Φυσικά με τέτοιες εμφανίσεις οι ίδιοι οι παίκτες αυτοδυναμούνται δσον άφορα δόξα, εκείνους που υποστηρίζουν, ότι ο Γκόρκι δέν τους γυμνάζει καλά κι' άλλα παρόμοια. Όταν οι παίκτες του Παναθηναϊκού είναι αντιστέ δλα πάνε καλά.

Συνεπώς δς μη ψέχνουν άλλοι τις ατίες όπτερα δ' πδ δακνής ευκαιρίας. Εκείνοι που σ'αίνα: περίο σ'αίνα: είναι οι ίδιοι οι παίκτες...
